US shares granular details of the alleged plot to kill Pannun

Accused Nikhil Gupta in US detention, his handler alleged to be ex-CRPF official

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

DAYS after Western media reports claimed the US had accused India of orchestrating a plot to kill Khalistani radical Gurupatwant Singh Pannun, an American national, the identity of the accused was made public.

US Attorney Damian Williams announced the filing of murder-for-hire charges against Nikhil Gupta, accusing him of hiring a hitman to bump off Pannun. The charges in a superseding indictment were unsealed on Wednesday in a US District Court for Southern District of New York.

Czech authorities arrested Gupta, 52, on June 30 and extradited him to the US, where he is in prison. The charge carries a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison.

Gupta's handler, the indictment said, is an "Indian government agency employee who has variously described himself as a "Senior Field Officer" with responsibilities in "Security Management" and "Intelligence," and who also has referenced previously serving in India's Central Reserve Police Force and receiving "officer training" in "battle craft" and "weapons." He directed the plot from India, Williams alleged.

Gupta is said to be involved in international narcotics and weapons trafficking. The hitman Gupta hired was an undercover Drug Enforcement Administration officer. The deal was done for $1,00,000 and he was paid $30,000 in two instalments as advance, the indictment further claimed.

The hit job was timed after Prime Minister Narendra Modi's summit meeting with US President Joe Biden in June.

Earlier in the day, India announced that it has constituted a committee to look into the issues the US had raised on the Pannun case.

"It is informed that on 18 November 2023, the Government of India constituted a high-level Enquiry Committee to look into all the relevant aspects of the matter," said Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson, Arindam Bagchi.

HOW IT IS TIED TO NIJJAR

On June 18, Hardeep Singh Nijjar was murdered in Canada. On or about June 19, Gupta told the purported hitman that Nijjar "was also the target" and "we have so many targets," the indictment claimed. Next day, Gupta's handler told him bumping off Pannun is priority

DECISION ON CBI PROBE

HC allows DKS to withdraw pleas in DA case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka on Wednesday permitted Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar to withdraw his petition as well as the appeal filed by him questioning the sanction given by the previous BJP government to the CBI to prosecute him for allegedly possessing assets disproportionate to his known sources of income as the very sanction has been withdrawn by the present Congress government.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Krishna S Dixit passed the order after senior advocate Kapil Sibal and AG Shashikiran Shetty, on behalf of the state, placed the government order issued on November 28, withdrawing the sanction given to the CBI on September 25, 2019, by the then BJP government.

At this stage, the court orally expressed its concern and asked the AG, "As we all know, we accept the rule of continuity of governance. Even there may be a change in the government. If this change is effected every time, will it not affect the rule of continuity of governance?"

To this, Sibal submitted that Section 6 of the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act is very clear that consent is required for investigation. If the CBI feels it has jurisdiction and power, it can proceed further, he said. Senior advocates Abhishek Singhvi and Uday Holla, appearing for Shivakumar, submitted that the petition filed before the single judge, which upheld the sanction, and the appeal filed by Shivakumar against the single judge's order are infructuous as the sanction has been withdrawn by the present government. DUE to the alleged negligence of doctors and other staff at NIMHANS hospital, a one-and-a-half-year-old boy, who was rushed from Hassan to Bengaluru in zero traffic after he suffered head injuries, died soon after he was taken to the emergency ward on Wednesday.

THE Karnataka government unveiled new draft policies for Biotechnology and Animation, Visual Effects, Gaming, Comics and Extended Reality (AVGC-XR) at the Bengaluru Tech Summit (BTS) 2023, which was inaugurated by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, on Wednesday.

While the AVGC-XR policy aims to develop Karnataka as a powerhouse in AVGC and emphasises on incentivising startups, MSMEs and SC/ST and women entrepreneurs, the biotechnology policy proposes to support high-tech biotech clusters of up to 10 acres and aims to set up a greenfield Bio Foundry under the PPP model. It also promotes the state as the next global clinical trials hub.

Siddaramaiah said, "Karnataka is home to over 5,500 IT/ITeS companies and approximately 750 multinational corporations." P2

● INDIA'S IT SECTOR VALUED AT $200 BILLION ● BIOTECH REALM HEADED TOWARDS A FUTURE OF PROMISE

IT, BT sectors doing well, despite headwinds: Industry

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE
@ Bengaluru

THE high-growth sectors of information technology and biotechnology (IT/BT) are looking at a strong future, buoyed by favourable changes on the tech front and a prevailing resilient economic environment.

The country's IT sector is currently valued at $200 billion and is expected to grow to $350 billion by the end of this decade. Substantiating this, Chairman of Vision Group on IT (Government of Karnataka) Kris Gopalakrishnan said, "In today's world, technology contributes to increasing productivity and providing customer benefits. The IT sector cuts across everything. Even in the last year, the industry in India grew by 9%. It's now a $200-billion sector, and is expected to grow to $350 billion by 2030."

"This (IT) is a high-growth industry, and is continuously growing year after year, and has grown steadily over the last several years," he said, addressing delegates at the inauguration of the 26th edition of Bengaluru Tech Summit (BTS) 2023 at Bangalore Palace on Wednesday.

Delving into the latest trends driving the sector, he said technology is ever changing. "It was only in November 2022 that ChatGPT was introduced, emerging as the fastest-growing application tech in the world today. In every sector, applications and how we interact with technology, information and intelligent systems change. What is unique about this round is the ability to interact with AI using a chat interface, which democratises AI," he explained.

Mentioning that the global economic slowdown could be cyclical, he said that in the medium to long term, India's IT industry could breach the $350 billion milestone too, with Karnataka being able to play a crucial role.

Meanwhile, the biotech realm is also heading towards a future of promise. Highlighting the sector's journey, Chairperson of Vision Group on BT Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw said, "In BT and life sciences, breaking new boundaries in the form of synthetic biology, genomic medicine and personalised medicine are helping us address urgent needs of the planet, for sustainability, healthcare, and nutrition... In all these aspects, BT is playing a stellar role. If you look at the convergence of technologies, we are able to accelerate the pace of growth in BT in a more formidable manner."

She said, "Biotechnology in India has always aimed to be a $150 billion sector by 2030. We are tracking well to attain this size. At this point in time, Karnataka itself contributes to 40% of India's BT sector, which is currently approaching $80 billion in value."

CONTRIBUTE CSR FUNDS TO IMPROVE RURAL SCHOOLS: DKS

Citing that the state government will come up with a new education system for rural students to strengthen the standards of primary education in their schools, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar appealed to the heads of tech companies to contribute their CSR funds for the initiative. "We want to provide rural children with facilities so that they can compete on the world stage," Shivakumar said. He added that several industry captains have come forward to invest CSR funds of Rs 2,000 cr.

PAI MIGHT LACK INFORMATION: PRIYANK KHARGE

IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge slammed Manipal Global Education Chairman Mohandas Pai for his post on X that Hyderabad will dethrone Bengaluru's IT status because of the neglect of successive governments over the last 10 years and that the government should show more energy to improve the city. Kharge said, "Mohandas Pai might be lacking information. Not a single company that has come to the negotiation table has left the state. It has become a habit for some to take an anti-Karnataka stand."

GREEN BTS TO REDUCE 1,350 KG OF WASTE

For the first time, the organisers have come up with a green BTS to adhere to sustainable practices and achieve net zero targets in coming years. BTS has taken novel steps towards this idea, such as replacing plastic water bottles with glass ones, and eliminating plastic ID pouches and printed exhibitor directories. "We are reducing 1,350 kg of waste," said Ekroop Kaur, Secretary, Department of Electronics, IT/BT and S&T.

'State driving force behind IT biz's success'

"OUR state has been a driving force behind the sector's success, contributing around $85 billion to the nation's exports," the CM said. He said the industry has not only provided direct employment to over 12 lakh professionals, but also created a ripple effect, generating over 31 lakh indirect jobs. Karnataka should be seen as the hub with an "end-to-end ecosystem" for innovating and growing businesses, he added. From being the first state to introduce an IT policy way back in 1997, introducing a biotech policy in 2001, and a startup policy in 2015, Siddaramaiah said the IT sector has come a long way, contributing a substantial 25% to the country's GDP.

"The revised biotech policy reflects our commitment to staying ahead of the curve and fostering growth. Our AVGC-XR policy will be a testament to our ongoing commitment and progressive approach in leading the nation's AVGC sector towards global excellence," he said. IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge said, "The biotechnology policy will further accelerate skills, nurture leadership and foster innovation in the sector. Karnataka is the only state to launch the third edition of AVGC policy, and with this, the state intends to make big strides in the animation and gaming sector. The Indian gaming market is expected to grow from $3 billion in 2023 to $6.26 billion in 2028, and Karnataka is bracing well in terms of skills and incubation." Meanwhile, the dates for the next two editions of BTS were also announced – November 19-21, 2024 and 2025.

K'TAKA HOME TO 650 US COMPANIES

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

FROM tech giants such as Microsoft, Amazon and Google, to established MNCs such as Cisco, Intel, US companies have made Karnataka their home. The state is home to 650 American companies, IT and BT Minister Priyank Kharge said.

Speaking at the India-US Tech Conclave held as part of Bengaluru Tech Summit on Wednesday, Kharge said, "American companies have been instrumental in driving Karnataka's transformation into a global innovation powerhouse. Their presence has fostered a culture of innovation, fuelled R&D, and nurtured a skilled talent pool, propelling Karnataka to the forefront of technological advancements."

These companies have not only invested in establishing their operations, but have also actively engaged in fostering innovation and collaboration within the state's ecosystem, he added. US-India Business Council (USIBC) and the Karnataka Innovation and Technology Society (KITS), Government of Karnataka, have entered into an MoU to bolster collaboration in key industry sectors, with a particular focus on information technology, biotechnology, and electronics sectors.

"This partnership emphasises the deepening engagement between the Karnataka government and USIBC to identify and address common challenges, facilitate collaboration between industries and promote Karnataka as an attractive investment destination for American companies," the minister said.

In a separate session on 'Shaping the Commercial Space Frontier', experts discussed the space sector's future.

ISRO pavilion a hit at summit

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

THE ISRO-industry pavilion was a hit at the Bengaluru Tech Summit as it attracted several space enthusiasts who wanted to experience the mobile planetarium and witness the first model of the Chandrayaan-3 lander on display.

As the lunar mission launched this year was a huge success, citizens were eager to experience Taare Zameen Par's digital planetarium, a semi-permanent geodesic dome. It is a 'Make in Karnataka' initiative which is being showcased for the first time at the summit. The venture, supported by the government, has proven to be cost effective and also reduces the expenses of the planetarium by 50%.

Hailing from North Karnataka, Dinesh Badagandi envisioned the idea to bridge the gap of astronomy education between the rural and urban areas. Since its inception in 2017, they have managed to educate 21 lakh children across 9,000 schools in the state. The entire dome is fitted with a projector screen displaying audio-supported visuals. While traditional planetariums lack interactive content, this digital planetarium uses VR technology.

Fix Bengaluru infrastructure with alacrity, says NRN

MURTHY said, "The first task of a good public governance system for Bengaluru to become even more stronger is we have to provide total freedom to start English medium schools whether we like it or not. I have met a lot of very important people in different areas, they all have sent their children to English medium schools. I have not come across anybody who is very important in any area, who sends his children to Kannada medium schools." "I am a Kannadiga, I speak Kannada and I enjoy reading SL Bhyrappa, Shivaram Karanth, my wife and that is not the issue, the reality is you asked a question what do we need to do so that Bengaluru is even more successful?," he told Kamath at the summit.

He said there is a need to improve the city's infrastructure with a sense of alacrity. Extending Metro services to Electronics City and other parts of Bengaluru where there are many companies must be done on priority and people in infrastructure industries must work three shifts, he added. "Elsewhere in nations that have high aspirations, I have seen people work at least two shifts," he said. He said the city contributes about 35-37% of the total software exports from India and that is about $75 billion from Bengaluru alone.

BMTC launches advanced passenger-safety system

ENS @ Bengaluru

BANGALORE Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) has installed an Advanced Driver Assistance System (ADAS) in 10 of its buses on a pilot basis to prevent and reduce road accidents.

Transport Minister R Ramalinga Reddy said the "Mobile 8 Connect" device installed in the buses has a vision sensor camera, a driver monitor system, an eye watch, and a GPS unit mounted on the front windshield. "With these features, the bus can be tracked, an alert will be sent to the driver in case he dozes off and ask him to maintain a safe distance between vehicles, avoid a collision and maintain a safe speed limit, from the control room. Based on the three-month feasibility study, the department will decide to install the system on all its buses," he said.

He said 5,000 buses of BMTC will have the Advance Vehicle Location System (AVLS) under the Nirbhaya scheme and state government's grant. A panic button, a Mobile Network Video Recorder (mNVR) and two CCTV cameras will be installed. All depots will start using this system gradually. "This project is being implemented with a focus on women's safety. Women passengers can press the panic button and the app-based SOS button if they face any trouble or problem," Reddy said.

30TH November : Long-range Aquarian patterns remind me of the ancient tradition that when all the planets gather in this sign, there will be a huge deluge. The last time this occurred was in February 3101 BC, five thousand years ago. Maybe there'll be a little rain today. But then, of course, it all depends where you are!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Be sure to make the most of any opportunity to spend extra time at home. There is everything to be gained from devoting more attention to family members, not least because one relation has an uncanny insight into the future. But are they right? You might not know just yet - so be cautious.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There are people who have a sad and sorry tale to tell, but there may be more imagination than substance in their complaints. The fact is that at such sentimental times as these, some folk enjoy self-pity and love their troubles. What can you do with them? You can try and cheer them up - that's what!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You should be pleased to hear that the recent magnificent relationship between the Sun, the source of male energy, and the Moon, the fount of femininity, is encouraging twelve months of emotional fulfilment and personal success. It's your job to put that fine promise into practice.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Crown yourself queen, or king, for the day, and insist that everyone else listens to you. Whether you have a grasp of the real situation is doubtful, but I don't think that will be any hindrance when it comes to convincing other people that you know exactly what is going on.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is a very good reason why you may be feeling a little under the weather - the Moon's relationship to Uranus and Neptune is making you very sensitive to subtle celestial pressures and emotional uncertainties. A friend might disappoint you, but go easy on them.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You are now in an ideal position to force others to pay back whatever they owe you, although an emotional appeal may be necessary. As far as romance is concerned, discretion should be your watchword. You don't want to shock anyone, or embarrass yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
At work you'll do best if you see everyone as part of one vast happy family. If you should feel let down or undermined, it's probably no more than a matter of recognising that your expectations were unrealistic. And if that's the case, be more practical from now on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Nobody can deny that you've had to work hard recently, and I don't think there should be any let-up just yet. However, unless you are completely blind to your good fortune, you should thank your stars for sending you the opportunity to stretch yourself to new limits.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may surprise partners and colleagues alike by your ingenuity and depth of vision. You are now considering the virtues of a fairly major move, and today it's time to check out the financial issues. Money may not bring happiness, but it can certainly make it easier for you to achieve your aims.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Today's lunar patterns should encourage you to speak out, formulate new plans, dream up fresh ideas and, what's more, communicate these to other people! All constructive criticism should be appreciated, for even rivals may have your best interests at heart.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There are so many unusually powerful planetary aspects that you may not know where to start. It's an ideal day to play it safe and press on with utterly necessary down-to-earth and routine chores. You might also have to decide whether to break a social tie, or go ahead, and grin and bear it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You should endeavour to remain calm and you will have a delightful day emotionally. Relations with children could prove particularly inspiring, and a cultural outing should be pleasantly diverting. That won't stop other people expecting you to do more than your fair share, though.

DAYS after the female abortion racket came to light, the Karnataka health department has decided to track every pregnancy and be informed of why fetuses are being aborted.

Addressing reporters here on Wednesday, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said, "Female foeticide is unacceptable and it is a shame that it is continuing. To put an end to this, the health department will track every pregnancy in the state, from conception to birth, through the Reproductive and Child Health number. If a foetus is aborted, we will check the reason for the abortion, Gundu Rao said and added that a standard operating procedure will be released and a committee will also be set up at the ministry level to curb female foeticide.

Commenting on the outbreak of pneumonia in China, he said there is no need to panic and that the government hospitals in the state have been asked to conduct mock drills and be equipped with PPE kits and oxygen supply to handle any emergency.

THE Central Crime Branch (CCB) sleuths have arrested two more persons in connection with the baby selling racket. Of the two, one is a quack while another woman is an agent. The agent, identified as Ramya, was arrested in Hebbal and the quack, Kevin, has been arrested in Rajajinagar area. With this, the number of arrests have increased to 10, of which 8 are women, and the police are interrogating all of them.

FIRST-TIME MLAs NOT TO HEAD BOARDS & CORPORATIONS

List out after Telangana elections; Posts to be offered in phases in the run-up to 2024 Lok Sabha polls, Surjewala, CM, DyCM hold discussions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

APPOINTMENTS to boards and corporations are likely soon after the fist list reaches the party high command and may be released as soon as the Telangana Assembly polls conclude on Thursday.

Hinting that the list may be announced anytime soon, Deputy Chief Minister and state Congress president DK Shivakumar said first-time MLAs will not get these posts. "First-time MLAs have not been accommodated in the first list and party workers will be accommodated in the next list," he said.

"Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Congress National General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala and I have discussed accommodating party workers. The list has been given to Surjewala, and he will take it to Delhi. He (Surjewala) might have promised some leaders the posts in the run-up to the May 10 Assembly polls. But the list will be discussed by our central leaders after elections in Telangana conclude. The final list has to be approved by the high command," he said.

On resentment expressed by Aland Congress MLA B R Patil on these appointments, Shivakumar said he is not aware of it. "All MLAs and party workers have an opportunity to express their points of view. I will speak to him," he said.

Sources said second and third-time MLAs, including those who joined Congress from JDS before the Assembly polls — like Arsikere MLA KM Shivalinge Gowda, have been included in the first list. Those who have decided not to seek ministerial berths during the cabinet reshuffle even in future too have pitched for the posts. Some who are not sure of the cabinet reshuffle too have settled for these appointments, they added.

Still, if there is any resentment among leaders and party workers, they will be placated by appointing them in future as there are over 130 posts in boards and corporations, a Congress leader said.

It is to be seen whether the party high command will release the list by late Thursday evening, when the Telangana polls conclude. If it happens before the joint legislature session in Belagavi, it will boost the morale of the party's rank and files, another leader observed.

"Appointments to boards and corporations will be made in a phased manner in the run-up to the 2024 Lok Sabha elections to check dissidence. In the first list, senior MLAs and MLCs are likely to get posts," a source said.

Surjewala held several rounds of talks with Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar and finalised the names of certain MLAs and MLCs for the posts. He will discuss the list with the party high command and release it in Delhi, a source said.

CM slams Centre over MGNREGA mandays

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday blamed the Union Government for not giving permission to the Karnataka government to increase the guaranteed mandays from 100 days to 150 days under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) in drought-hit taluks in Karnataka. Speaking to reporters in Haveri, Siddaramaiah said that Karnataka has not received a single Rupee as compensation from the Centre as per the National Disaster Response Fund (NDRF) norms.

The CM claimed that 13 states in the country, including Karnataka, are reeling under drought, and they too have not received any compensation under NDRF from the Centre.

"BJP leaders tell my government not to wait for assistance from the Centre but release funds for farmers from the state's kitty. But we are seeking funds... which is our right. It is the fund collected from the state as tax revenue," Siddaramaiah elaborated.

He reiterated his government's commitment in mitigating drought woes.

Siddaramaiah also directed the deputy commissioners to ensure there is no scarcity of drinking water for people and there is enough fodder for cattle.

The government has already released funds to the districts and the district ministers have been asked to monitor proper implementation of drought relief measures, he added.

On fund release for crop loss, the CM said, "The survey is on. But the Centre is yet to release funds under NDRF. Works taken up as part of drought relief will not be hampered."

On his government's preparedness for the upcoming Belagavi winter session, Siddaramaiah said, though his government was ready to reply to any queries raised by the Opposition, emphasis would be given to important issues plaguing North Karnataka.

On appointing heads to boards and corporations, the CM said that a list has been finalised after discussing with DyCM DK Shivakumar and submitted to AICC state incharge Randeep Singh Surjewala. On Opposition criticising the withdrawal of CBI inquiry against Shivakumar, he said, if he had no idea of the law and procedure like former CMs BS Yediyurappa and HD Kumaraswamy, he would have also given assent for a CBI probe.

NO CONCEPT OF REBIRTH, PAST BIRTH: SIDDU

HUBBALLI: Opining that there is no concept of rebirth or past birth, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday said what matters most is the work done in one's life, as Saint Kanakadasa and Sharnas, including Basavanna, comprehensively rejected the theory of Karma and myths on rebirth. After inaugurating the 536th Kanaka Jayantyotsava and Bhavaikya Sammelana organised by the Kanakagurupeeth in Kaginele of Haveri district on Wednesday, he said Kanakapeetha should become an abode for all exploited communities. The main intention of establishing the Peetha was to make it open to all communities and not restrict only to Kurubas, he added. "None of us were born by our choice. Humans must value each other. Kanakadasa was against valuing humans on caste and religion biases," he said. "Religion exists among us and we don't live for religion. Great social reformers Kanakadasa, Basavanna and even Ambedkar advocated an equal society. The teachings of Sharans, Dasas, Sufis and Kuvempu were all the same and needed to be adopted in our life," he added. ENS

How many contractors should commit suicide? HC to govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HEARING a contempt of court petition on pending bills, the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday observed that, according to the government's own records, two contractors have committed suicide, and asked the State Government how many more contractors should end their lives before the bills are cleared?

The division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Krishna S Dixit posed the question to the State Government while hearing the contempt petition filed by Nikshep Infra Projects for not complying with the order dated June 6, 2023, passed by a single judge to the State Government to consider petitioner's representation for the release of Rs 16.4 crore by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

When the matter was taken up, the court orally told the government and the BBMP, "As per your own records, at least two contractors have committed suicide. How many contractors should commit suicide? Don't drive them to the corner by delaying payment for the work done. They do your job and when there is no objection after the completion of work, how can the state stop the payment? If this is the way the state works, no contractor will come forward to do the work."

The court said that they are unable to understand BBMP's concept for payment of bills. "In any welfare state, this cannot be a concept when there is no dispute with regard to the fact that a public body floated tender for certain work, the successful bidder completes the work by following all the conditions of the work order and the public body also admits that the work is duly completed but still the successful bidder or the contractor is required to wait for the amount due and payable to him for an unreasonable time or has to run from pillar to post for his payment and ultimately, they approach the court," the court said.

Such matters are considerable in number which consumes valuable time of the court and do not allow the court to take up some worthy or important matters where critical legal issues are involved or rights of the citizens are at stake.

This was after the counsel appearing for the officers of BBMP prayed for a short adjournment and submitted that the civic body is disbursing the amount due and payable for the work undertaken by various contractors as per seniority of the bills submitted.

The court also said, "We expect and hope that the public bodies or the State undertakings or corporation body of the State henceforth consider the concern expressed by this court and try to avoid such situation by issuing appropriate directions or framing guidelines for payment of bills." Further hearing is adjourned to December 13.

HAVE DONE NO WRONG, ONLY WORKED FOR CONG, SAYS DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KPCC president and DyCM DK Shivakumar said that he has done no wrong and has only worked for the party for which he has faced many problems. Stressing on his DA case, Shivakumar said that he has not committed any mistake.

"You (media) and people have seen that. I have only worked for the party and for this I have faced many problems. I believe that God is there to protect me even in the future. People know what is wrong and those who gave me trouble are now facing it," the DyCM told reporters.

Shivakumar was reacting on the High Court granting him permission to withdraw his petition and file an appeal questioning sanction given by the previous government to the CBI to prosecute him in the DA case. The Congress government recently decided to withdraw permission given to the CBI to probe the case.

Shivakumar said that he does not know the details of the judgment and cannot speak about it without getting details from the lawyers. When asked about BJP leader and MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal filing an appeal in the High Court against him, he said, "I am watching his behaviour and actions. I will respond to all of it at an appropriate time."

'We've to act as per law'

SOMEBODY may challenge it or not, the matter is infructuous now and it may be disposed of, they said. Advocate P Prasanna Kumar, representing the CBI, submitted that if the state wants to withdraw the sanction, it can do so. "But we will proceed with the matter as there is no impediment under law for the investigating agency to proceed further," he said. To this, Sibal said, "We have an order of withdrawal and somebody can challenge it. If the CBI wants to continue, it could."

Replying to this, Prasanna Kumar said, "We have no objection to withdrawal of the appeal, but we are against withdrawal of the petition in which the single judge had upheld the sanction given to CBI." To this, the bench said the order of the single judge will go if the petition is withdrawn. Singhvi said then the sanction will become invalid accordingly. Prasanna Kumar, however, submitted that the investigation, which commenced before the withdrawal of sanction, would be completed as withdrawal of sanction would be effective prospectively and not retrospectively. It will not affect the investigation that has commenced, he argued.

The bench said, "You can continue. But unless somebody else/aggrieved party challenges the withdrawal of sanction, the court would not go into it as it is not in our domain."

Advocate Venkatesh P Dalwai, representing senior BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, who filed an intervening application over the matter of withdrawal of sanction, said, "We did not expect this kind of conduct by the state government. The government should not have withdrawn the consent as it is against the law laid down by the apex court." The court, however, said that it has to act as per law and do justice according to law and allowed Shivakumar to withdraw his petitions.

CM WILL TAKE A DECISION, SAYS BYRE GOWDA

Replying to the reported letter written by Aland MLA BR Patil to the CM, Byre Gowda has said that the former would take an appropriate decision on the matter. Addressing media persons in Vijayapura on Wednesday, Byre Gowda said that he has already given a reply in the Assembly in the past. On the allegation of Patil that the statement of Byre Gowda has caused offense, the minister refused to respond, stating that he has come for a review meeting and therefore he does not wish to create any controversy. On the statement of Patil that he would not enter the Assembly till a probe is ordered to clear him from corruption charges, the minister said that he would not like to comment on it as it is the prerogative of the CM to order for any probe.

AMID the simmering cold war between Congress Aland MLA BR Patil and Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda, the former has said that he will not attend the legislature sessions, including the winter session in Belagavi from December 4, until an investigation into the allegations of corruption which Byre Gowda levelled against him are probed and completed.

He said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah asked him to rush to Bengaluru in connection with the controversy and that he would meet the CM on Wednesday evening. Patil was speaking to media persons in Kalaburgi "I want the government to launch a high-level inquiry into the allegations made against me. I had to write to the Chief Minister for a probe into the allegations of corruption against me as the development harmed my self-respect. The CM should conduct the inquiry by having Krishna Byre Gowda and the officials together," he added.

He said so far he tolerated insults on many occasions but the way Byre Gowda spoke against him in the legislature session pained him.

"I don't have a grudge or anger against anybody but people should know that I am innocent," Patil added.

He said that the CM spoke to him on the phone and asked him to rush to Bengaluru on Wednesday evening itself. Patil said he would attend the meeting convened by the CM.

Recalling the developments which led to the controversy, Patil said he had asked questions about developmental works. "While replying to my questions in the session, Byre Gowda alleged that I took money to allot the works. But I protested against it. Unfortunately, none of the MLAs came in support of me," he regretted. Patil said he did not raise the issue in the run up to the Assembly elections in the five states.

"Now, I have written to the CM. I am a man with self-respect," he said.

NIA charges 2 in Mangaluru pressure cooker blast case

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Wednesday filed a chargesheet against two accused in the Islamic State (IS) sponsored pressure cooker blast that took place in Mangaluru in November last year. The NIA stated one of the accused, Mohamed Shariq, who was carrying the cooker IED in an autorickshaw when it exploded on November 19, 2022, had "planned to plant it at Kadri Manjunatha Temple in Mangaluru with the aim to create terror among the Hindu community but the bomb accidentally exploded on the way." The case was registered on November 23 under sections 120B and 307 of IPC for criminal conspiracy and attempt to murder, and Sections 3, 4 and 5 of Explosive Substances Act. Shariq was arrested by NIA in July this year along with his co-accused Syed Yasin.

According to NIA, Shariq and Yasin, along with an online handler, had planned the explosion as part of a conspiracy to establish the Caliphate.

Shariq had first come on the radar of security forces in November 2020 when he was arrested by the Karnataka police for pro-terror graffiti in Mangaluru. He and his associates had put up the graffiti in support of the IS, a global terror outfit.

Subsequently, Shariq was also named in the Shivamogga IS conspiracy case of 2022, in which so far 10 accused have been arrested.

"Of these 10 arrested, nine, including Shariq and Yasin, were chargesheeted on June 30 this year for radicalising and recruiting gullible Muslim youth, raising funds, and further conducting trial blast to further the anti-India activities of the IS," added the Central counter-terrorism agency.

Each legislator to plant sapling near Suvarna Soudha

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AT the joint legislature session in Belagavi, beginning on Monday, each of the 300 legislators will plant a tree sapling.

Speaker UT Khader told TNIE, "We have made arrangements to plant 300 saplings around Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi. Each sapling will bear an elegantly designed plaque with the legislator's name, which will serve as a permanent memorial and legislators can come even after many years and recall these moments." The saplings from the government nursery will be selected and stored in a place near Suvarna Vidhana Soudha, while the secretarial staff have identified the location to plant the saplings. CM Siddaramaiah, DCM DK Shivakumar, Khader, Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti, all 34 ministers and legislators -- 75 from the Council and 225 from the Assembly -- will plant saplings. This is one of the measures to make Suvarna Vidhana Soudha greener.

Khader said the entire Suvarna Vidhana Soudha will be lit up permanently from this session onwards. Previously Rs 1.25 crore used to be spent to illuminate the structure only during the short session. Now, there will be laser and colour light options and it will be illuminated on weekends.

On the facilities at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha, where it is often said staff who go to get coffee from Belagavi city do not return the same day, Khader said a complete food court will be set up. "We will have Hatti Kaapi and other facilities."

Preparations have started for the massive administrative machinery exodus from Bengaluru to Belagavi. Most of the secretariat staff will leave over the weekend, while a handful have already reached Belagavi. Siddaramaiah has been allocated Room 346-347, while DKS Room 306-306A.

SC raps Kerala Guv over Bills row

It, however, refuses to intervene in his powers, Khan had given nod to just 1 Bill out of 8

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday took strong exception to Kerala Governor Arif Mohammad Khan sitting on the bills cleared by the state assembly. While the court clearly expressed its displeasure over the governor's inaction on the bills for nearly two years, it refused to intervene in his powers.

Out of eight pending bills, Khan had granted assent to one bill on Tuesday and referred seven bills to the President.

The bench headed by Chief Justice Dhananjaya Yeshwant Chandrachud said it did not see any reason why the governor should keep the bills pending for an inordinate period of time.

"What was the governor doing for two years by sitting on the bills?" asked the bench, also comprising judges J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra.

Attorney General R Venkataramani, appearing for the governor, said he does not wish to go into detail because it will open a Pandora's box.

"We will get into it very much," the bench shot back, and allowed the Kerala government to amend its plea seeking guidelines for governors to decide on bills in a time-bound manner. The bench reiterated its recent judgment on a similar case filed by the Punjab government against its governor, that the governor's powers can't be misused to thwart the normal course of lawmaking by the legislature.

The SC also observed that political sagacity seems to be lacking, adding it wouldn't hesitate to lay down the guidelines as to when the bills can be reserved for presidential assent.

POLL READY

Make-or-break time for KCR as TS votes today

Election staff get ready on the eve of voting for the Telangana Assembly polls in Secunderabad on Wednesday | VINAY MADAPU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

THE ruling Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) headed by Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao will face its toughest test yet when polling begins in Telangana on Thursday as the opposition Congress has put up a spirited fight.

The state unit of the Congress under A Revanth Reddy, supported by Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, has managed to stage a comeback and its slogan Maarpu kaavali, Congress raavali (Change is needed, Congress should come) is resonating with the voters.

The perceived failure of the BRS government in tackling inflation, two bedroom houses for the poor and alleged discrimination in implementing welfare schemes such as Dalit Bandhu, besides voter fatigue with the pink party, are the main factors that could help the Congress.

The BJP, which had lost steam after the abrupt removal of Bandi Sanjay Kumar as the state party chief, gained some momentum at the end with Prime Minister Narendra Modi addressing many meetings and holding a massive road show in Hyderabad.

Though the main contest is between BRS and Congress, the saffron party could make it a triangular fight in a few pockets.

BRS is highlighting the development it has carried out in the state in the last 10 years, including ensuring 24/7 power supply and enhanced urban infrastructure. If he wins, KCR will become the first CM from South India to bag a third consecutive term.

Boy's condition was serious, says NIMHANS

THE police created a green corridor from Hassan to Bengaluru and the ambulance carrying the boy reached NIMHANS in less than two hours, around 1.45 pm.

Despite swift police assistance in shifting the injured boy to Bengaluru, NIMHANS staffers told his parents that there were no beds available at the emergency ward.

It is said that the doctors at the Hassan hospital had requested the NIMHANS authorities to reserve a bed for the boy. However, the boy's parents were allegedly made to wait for over one hour at NIMHANS to admit him.

The ambulance drivers alleged that even after taking the boy inside the emergency ward, the doctors did not start treatment immediately. This resulted in the boy's death.

Siddapura police rushed to the hospital and pacified the boy's parents and others who were protesting against the alleged negligence on the part of NIMHANS authorities and doctors. Refuting the allegation, Dr HS Shashidhar, resident medical officer, NIMHANS, said Vijay was admitted to the emergency ward. His condition was serious as he had suffered multiple skull fractures. Though they performed CT scans and tried to save the boy, he succumbed to injuries within two hours after his admission.

Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said, "NIMHANS is one of the premier health institutions and beds there will always be full. It is unfortunate that the child died. I will check with the NIMHANS authorities if there was any delay in the child's admission."

A criminal complaint has been registered against the four for obstructing the police from discharging their duty. The police, in a swift operation, arrested the accused later.

The police had gone to arrest Tanuj, the suspect wanted in a cheating case registered at the Amruthahalli police station on October 27. Tanuj was hiding at his flat in Mithun Heights Apartment in Srirampura. A team of policemen, including a sub-inspector, had gone to the apartment last Thursday evening to arrest Tanuj. When the policemen knocked on the doors, four persons -- Vedikha, Sangeetha, Sunil and Sandeep, who were inside the flat -- obstructed them from taking custody of Tanuj.

The policemen then called for more personnel. The accused also allegedly attacked a policewoman, KG Radha. When the police personnel forced themselves inside the flat, they saw one of the rooms was locked. When they entered the room, the doors of the attached bathroom too were locked. They broke open the bathroom door, only to find that Tanuj had escaped. The four who helped Tanuj escape were taken into custody immediately.

"The police had gone to serve a notice to Tanuj, asking him to appear before the investigating officer in the cheating case. A driver of a courier agency had filed the case, alleging that Tanuj had taken smart phones from him, though they were meant for someone else. The four persons neither allowed the police to serve the notice to Tanuj, nor accepted it. They blocked the police and started abusing them. They indirectly helped the accused to escape. Tanuj has also been arrested," said a police officer.

Tharoor expresses concern over breach of data of 815m Indians

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leader Shashi Tharoor here on Wednesday expressed concern over Personally Identifiable Information (PII) data of 850 million Indians being breached on the dark web, despite the country boasting of the success of UPI, which the US too envied.

Inconversation with Zerodha co-founder Nikhil Kamath at a fund-raising event to support 100 paediatric heart surgeries, organised by Rotary Bangalore MidTown GenNext, the three-time MP, indirectly referring to the Union government, described developments such as stifling of voices by "sending individuals to jail ensuring that they will not get bail" as frightening in a democracy.

He regretted that politics for the young generation has become a tough career if they do not have a family background. The majority of young MPs below 40 years were all from families with political backgrounds. "Yet,some of those with that background have imbibed good qualities," he said.

" Sonia Gandhi and Manmohan Singh offered me to join politics which I accepted with foolishness. But without any background and pedigree could survive and could overcome the 'agni pareeksha' including in my own party", he said.

"When the country got Independence the younger generations were tied down by colonialism and inferiority, today the young generation is more confident than the earlier generation and carry it forward that many of us have not conceived", he observed.

Rs 35 lakh raised from the event was handed over to O P Khanna, Chairman, Needy Heart Foundation. The Foundation has signed MoUs with twelve hospitals to subsidise the cost against surgeries.

Lantana jumbos at Soudha a big attraction

ENS @ Bengaluru

PEOPLE usually run helter-skelter if they encounter elephants or worse, chase them away by bursting firecrackers or firing in the air. But it was a different sight altogether in the city on Wednesday.

Bengalureans were seen taking selfies with a herd of elephants in front of Vidhana Soudha. But these elephants are made of lantana trees.

Craftsmen from Soliga, Betta Kurumba and Paniyan tribal communities from Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Kerala are known for carving elephants and other animals using lantana logs. They will be on display for the next five days as a precursor to the exhibition of 150 lantana elephants across Bengaluru from January 15 to February 15, 2024, to raise awareness on human-animal co-existence and conflict. The Real Elephant Collective, an NGO, makes these lantana elephants in partnership with the UK Charity Elephant Family. Nearly 150 tribals from the three states are involved in making lantana elephants and other items. Law and Tourism Minister HK Patil unveiled the herd.

Purohits' kids to get post even when father is alive

ENS @ Bengaluru

FOR the first time, the state government is allowing children of purohits (priests), working at temples belonging to the endowments department. To continue working as priests even when their father is alive

Till now, the posts were given to such children only after passing away of their parent. The department has now issued a notification allowing children of purohits who are suffering from health ailments to continue their family tradition.

The state has over 34,000 endowment temples. As per the Karnataka Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments Act 1997, Section 9(1), sons of purohits working in C grade temples as heredity if their father Purohit died. However, for aged priests who are unable to attend the temple puja, their children or heir would not be given the work.

Now, the government has issued an order where it said the hereditary rights would be passed on to the children in case of death of purohit or if purohit is unable to undertake pooja in temples due to health and age-related issues.

Space unifying frontier for countries: Rakesh Sharma

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

IT is an interesting era where the world is not only looking at space exploration, but also space colonisation, but it will not be easy to set up a colony in such a hostile environment, be it the Moon, Mars or any other planet in space, said Wing Commander Rakesh Sharma (Retd) -- the first and only Indian astronaut -- on Wednesday. He added that colonies in space should not be made by individual countries, but instead with the aim of the practice being "collaborative rather than competitive".

Sharma, along with NASA Administrator Bill Nelson, interacted with over 200 students from schools at Visvesvaraya Industrial and Technological Museum (VITM) in the city, under the programme 'Reaching for the Stars: A Conversation with NASA and ISRO'. The Indian astronaut reiterated the need to be mindful of the finite resources of Earth and advocated, "Science with a conscience and Science that will positively impact lives."

Wing Commander Rakesh Sharma (Retd) interacts with students in Bengaluru on Wednesday | PURAN CHOUDHARY

Sharma applauded ISRO for harnessing space technology for the benefit of society, and India's recently signed Artemis Accord is a positive step towards building a "Sustainable and equitable space exploration", he said.

The duo met after 1991, and is all set to visit the UR Rao Satellite Centre (URSC) here on Thursday to look at the NASA-ISRO Synthetic Aperture Radar satellite (NISAR), which will be launched in early 2024. NISAR will measure Earth's changing ecosystems and collect data on natural hazards.

Sharing his experience with students, Nelson spoke about how when he saw the Earth from space, he did not see racial, religious or political divisions, but that we are all in this together. He added that space is a unifying frontier for all countries. He called the current generation the Artemis generation and referred to himself as the Apollo generation.

Nelson said, "This current generation will be the one to go to Mars and it's the Golden Era of space exploration." He explained that despite the differences between the US and Russia, they don't exist in space. "The astronauts and cosmonauts built the space station together and work together... that is how space unifies," he said, lauding the growing partnership between India and the US.

He added that NASA will also train an Indian astronaut and fly him/her to the International Space Station next year and will continue to collaborate with the country for many science projects.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

TUNNEL RESCUE: JUBILATION, BUT HARD LESSONS TO LEARN

INDIA on Tuesday evening witnessed one of its biggest successful rescue operations ever. The operation set free 41 workers trapped for 17 days from 5.30 am on November 12 in the 4.5-km Silkyara-Dandalgaon tunnel, a part of the 889-km Char Dham national highway project in Uttarakhand. It took 397-and-a-half hours for a 250-strong rescue team to get to the trapped workers; on the final day, all 41 were safely extracted within minutes. It was a determined, united effort to get the workers out alive.

The rescue team faced multiple challenges delaying horizontal drilling through 57 metres of collapsed rubble that had trapped the workers. The challenges included the blades of a state-of-the-art auger drilling machine—especially brought over from Delhi by air—getting stuck in the rubble and an obstruction caused by a metal girder. The final 10 metres were bored with handheld drills by rat-hole miners, who were the first to reach the trapped workers. The biggest test was to ensure the drilling progressed without further collapses, which would have endangered those trapped and the rescuers. But once the 41 were out, there was jubilation all around as emotional family members hugged the workers after 17 nail-biting days.

As the country and its leaders sigh in relief, the threat of a repeat of such a disastrous event—or worse—continues to stare us in the face. Geologists have cautioned against large infrastructure projects in this geologically unstable and seismically prone Himalayan region that has a variety of sedimentary rocks, each with its own density and texture. The softer rocks are prone to crumbling, causing landslides—which is suspected to have caused the November 12 tunnel collapse in the first place. This makes the region highly unstable and vulnerable to frequent earthquakes. The Char Dham highway project envisages building 100 bridges, 16 tunnels and bypasses, and 15 flyovers in such a region. Besides, the state government has 33 hydel projects lined up to produce over 1,400 MW of electricity. We should remember that this is also the region where the Ganga and its main tributaries originate, sustaining 60 crore Indians downstream. The tunnel collapse and rescue should be a hard lesson that pushes us to ensure a safer future for such a large population and a more sustainable ecology for the whole subcontinent.

ODISHA METRO PLANS TO KEEP PROMISE IN TIME

THE Naveen Patnaik government's decision to have its own metro rail service in the next four years is a bold statement of intent. Planned at an estimated ₹6,500 crore, the Bhubaneswar metro rail project is billed as the single largest investment in Odisha's infrastructure and would be entirely funded by the state government. Connecting Bhubaneswar airport to Trishulia on the state capital's outskirts, a single elevated line will run for 26.4 km covering 20 stations. Chief Minister Patnaik is expected to lay the foundation stone for the project, which received the nod of the state cabinet earlier this month, on the first day of 2024. The government has already roped in Delhi Metro Rail Corporation as its consultant for the project which aspires to transform the state's transport sector and put it in the league of top cities in India that boast of a mass rapid transit system.

The Biju Janata Dal had included the metro project in its manifesto for the 2019 general elections; by keeping its word, the party has shown that it is willing to walk the talk. The project seeks to cover the capital region at the right time, as an expanding Bhubaneswar seems to be bursting at the seams with the massive pressure of urbanisation. With vehicular population growing in two-digit percentages year on year, the metro will not only improve urban mobility and de-congest the existing carriageways, but also reduce the demand for more roads. Another positive aspect would be the environmental benefits that would add more years to the life of the capital city.

As it sets the capital metro project in motion, the Odisha government is also looking at a master plan to bring Cuttack, Khurda and Puri under its ambit. This will help the state develop the entire area as its foremost metropolitan region and have an accelerator effect on other projects that can spur further economic growth. A major challenge for the government will be to navigate the issues of land and heterogeneous urban settings on the project map. At this point, the four-year deadline for the Bhubaneswar metro may seem daunting. But it is achievable knowing the BJD government's ability to put key infrastructure projects on a fast-forward mode, as it has done at times over the last decade.

QUICK TAKE

LET GIRLS HAVE BETTER EDUCATION

THE Uttar Pradesh government's decision to ban late evening tuition classes for girls is a case of victimising the victim again. It comes two years after the Union home minister proclaimed, "Daughters step out of home [in UP] without any fear now." The Annual Status of Education Report for 2022 stated that 4 percent of the state's girls aged 11-14 years were not enrolled in school—almost half the state's 2018 number, but double the national average. And a fourth of all students opted for private tuition, up from a sixth in 2018. So rather than stopping girls from stepping out late, the state should improve its schools and make the roads safer.

Two wars and a depression preceded the emergence of the previous world order. The world is again straining at the seams, but it is missing statesmanship this time

INTERREGNUM BEFORE A NEW WORLD ORDER

P S RAGHAVAN

Distinguished Fellow, Vivekananda International Foundation, and a former diplomat

ABOUT 90 years ago, in the wake of the Great Depression and the rise of fascism in Europe, the Italian politician-philosopher Antonio Gramsci wrote of the crisis in world affairs: "The old is dying and the new cannot be born; in this interregnum a great variety of morbid symptoms appear." This is a perfect description of the state of the world today. The international order of the Cold War years has clearly passed on; its successor is nowhere in sight. The "morbid symptoms" of the interregnum are there for all to see, from the seemingly endless war of attrition in Ukraine to the hot conflict in West Asia, escalating US-China tensions—though attenuated somewhat by the recent Joe Biden-Xi Jinping meeting—and assorted conflicts in Asia, Africa and Europe.

They flow, in part, from a failure of the international community to discard Cold War mindsets and, for the other part, unwillingness to grasp the implications of the political and economic transformations in the post-Cold War international landscape. We have moved very quickly from a liberal international order, underpinned by unipolarity in the early years after the Cold War, to a messy patchwork of conflicts and skirmishes.

Post-Cold War politics and economics encouraged many countries to rediscover their geopolitical perspectives. Globalisation and technology flows enabled a number of them to leapfrog stages of development and attain political, economic and military strength that fuelled their ambitions for greater regional and global influence. They put their national interests foremost in their policies.

This explains the divergent responses of countries to the wars in Ukraine and West Asia and to US-China tensions. The narrative of democracy vs authoritarianism does not sell. Countries invariably choose interests over values, though they may explain it otherwise. They are increasingly aggressive in stressing their autonomy of policy. Witness in this regard the Saudi insistence on oil production cuts resisting US blandishments, or the virtual stampede of 'middle' countries—including some American allies and partners—to join BRICS earlier this year. It is not that they do not accept the US-led international order; they want a greater say in it.

Most countries declare their allegiance to a rules-based order, but the interpretation of the rules varies. They abide by rules that suit their interests and ignore or reinterpret those that do not. The more assertive among them believe that they should have a greater say in framing, interpreting and administering the rules of this order. The latest US National Security Strategy recognises this aspiration. It asserts that all nations supporting universal rights and freedoms should have the opportunity to participate in shaping the rules of the international order, whatever their political system. But translation of this principle into action requires a broad international consensus on rule-building that the current fractures in global politics render unattainable.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The Russia-Ukraine war sharpened faultlines along one axis, the West Asian crisis along another, and US-China tensions along a third. The narratives propagated by the various parties to these disputes use history as a malleable substance, to be moulded according to the actions or policies being justified. Globalisation has been securitised and multilateralism is on life support. Talks about a liberal international order are increasingly hollow, since elements of 'illiberal' political and economic behaviour have crept into every democracy to a greater or lesser degree. Free speech is a democratic virtue, but only when it is in line with political correctness or geopolitical interests; otherwise a 'cancel culture' kicks in. Allegations of genocide, ethnic cleansing or war crimes are freely bandied around, without historical context or verification. Meanwhile, the world barely noticed when a 100,000-strong Armenian population was literally hounded out of its traditional homeland of Nagorno-Karabakh in Azerbaijan a few weeks ago. Pakistan has declared that it will expel millions of Afghan refugees from its territory; no one seems to care. Concern for human rights is a function of space and time.

Labelling states as rogue, evil or outcasts bent on disrupting the international order ignores the fact that they may have interests or concerns that need to be addressed. It triggers confrontations that thwart possibilities of bringing them into the fold of a manageable international order. When it is applied to countries with the political, economic and geographic weight of Russia and Iran, the problem is exacerbated.

It follows from this bleak picture that we do not today have a functioning international order. The mix of a dominant US, truculent China, disgruntled Russia, directionless Europe and a host of middle powers aggressively promoting their ambitions does not provide conducive ingredients for a sustainable rules-based order, especially when a zero-sum approach is applied to every conflict or rivalry.

We will therefore keep teetering on the edge of precipices, moving from one major conflagration to another, with the constant threat of an irresponsible state or non-state actor pushing the situation over the edge.

Analysts, particularly in the United States, are hopeful that the aftermath of the current Israeli military action in Gaza could open the door to a durable settlement, according recognition to Palestinian claims of land and political status. In the seemingly unlikely event that this happens, it would provide a template for a post-Cold war reconciliation that rejects a zero-sum approach.

The new order that Gramsci awaited was eventually born after a protracted, destructive world war. Today, with the near-anarchical clashes of national interests and the proliferation of lethal weaponry available to state and non-state actors, that would be a pathway to certain destruction rather than to a stable international order. There is no indication of the statesmanship in major countries that can spearhead the search for an alternative course. The best option available to us today is to manage the interregnum as best as possible.

COP28 MUST PUT GLOBAL CLIMATE ACTION BACK ON TRACK

B K SINGH

Former head of forest force, Karnataka

AT the Glasgow climate change conference (COP26), Narendra Modi walked an extra mile and upscaled India's commitment to its nationally determined contributions (NDC) agreed at Paris 2015 to be achieved by 2030. The installed renewable energy capacity target was increased from 450 GW to 500 GW. He further committed to meeting half the electricity requirement from renewable sources and to cut the total projected cumulative carbon emissions by one billion tonnes a year from 2022 to 2030. The earlier commitment to cut the carbon intensity of the GDP—the CO2 equivalent emitted per unit of GDP—by 33-35 percent by 2030 from the 2005 level was strengthened to 45 percent. The only action envisaged for meeting these targets is transitioning from coal and oil consumption to renewable energy.

Despite the pledges, power demand is surging after the pandemic. This has led to the installation of new coal-fired plants. Amid reports that France and the US may ban private funding for coal at the COP28—being held in Dubai from November 30 to December 12—the restriction on funds for new coal plants in India is being eased. It's a move destined to increase fossil fuel consumption.

Wind and solar energy targets are the major contributors to green energy targets. Despite a wind power target of 60 GW by 2022 and 140 GW by 2030, and a solar power target of 100 GW by 2022 and 280 GW by 2030, we achieved 48 GW and 105 GW of wind and solar power capacity respectively by 2022.

At the COP27 in Sharm el-Sheikh, Modi called on world leaders to adopt LiFE—Lifestyle for the environment—which envisages grassroots movements for a healthy and sustainable way of living based on the values of conservation, tradition and environment-friendly development to minimise the carbon footprint. As a follow-up, India launched a national green credit programme, with the Dehradun-based Indian Council of Forestry Research and Education as the administrator. The measures under the programme include tree plantation, treatment and reuse of waste water, sustainable agriculture including land restoration, better waste management in collection and segregation, pollution reduction, conservation and restoration of mangroves, and sustainable buildings and infrastructure. It will reward eco-positive actions, work out green credit for different species of trees and climatic zones, and decide inter-credit equivalence between such activities.

DUBAI EXPO

Dubai is hosting the COP28 climate meet from November 30 to December 12. India and the rest of the world made big promises to contain carbon emissions at Paris 2015, Glasgow 2021 and Sharm el-Sheikh 2022. But the pandemic disrupted some of those plans. It's now time to act on the pledges

Though India will take pride at COP28 in the positive actions on LiFE, the real action will be the implementation of the green credit programme, which envisages reducing coal and oil consumption and increasing the speed and scale of transition to renewable energy.

Just before COP28, the emissions gap report of the UN Environment Programme warned leaders that the world is set to get warmer by at least 3°C by the end of the century. The report added that the total global emissions in 2022 were the highest recorded at 57.4 gigatonnes of CO2 equivalent. While China, the US and India—the top three emitters in decreasing order—have exceeded their 2021 emissions, the EU, Brazil and Russia have succeeded in cutting down theirs. The report also states that even if all countries comply with the pledges made on NDCs, the emissions would still be 19 gigatonnes more than what is required to keep global warming within 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels. The impact of inaction from global leaders is quite evident.

Like the rest of the world, India has suffered several extreme climatic events in recent years, especially across the Himalayas: Flooding in Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Sikkim washed away roads and bridges, caused landslides and damaged tunnels. The collapse of the tunnel in Uttarkashi put the lives of 41 entrapped labourers at risk. Despite frequent tragic incidents such as the decade-old Kedarnath floods where thousands of lives were lost and the washing away of the under-construction Tapovan hydel project that took over 200 lives, we have continued to plunder nature and construct high-altitude rail lines, Char Dham roads and hydel projects. We must resolve to correct these missteps at COP28.

Former US president Donald Trump, who called climate change a hoax, is leading opinion polls to be one of the nominees in the mostly-two-party race for the largest economy's top office in 2024. Three quarters of his Republican colleagues are against climate action. Though Democrats favour actions to cut emissions and provide finance to the Global South for resilient infrastructure and transition to green energy, they have not fulfilled it so far. UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak has delayed the ban on new diesel and petrol vehicles from 2030 to 2035. When major economies are fighting inflation and slowdown because of the pandemic and geopolitics, providing climate finance and taking action drops from being a primary objective.

The resolutions at Glasgow and Sharm el-Sheikh to phase down fossil fuel burning instead of phasing it out have caused a surge in emissions. In 2021, China burned 4.5 billion tonnes of coal and India burned 1.1 billion tonnes. Hopefully, COP28 will put the cap back on fossil fuel burning.

A brighter future: India's G20 presidency & dawn of multilateralism

India offered the world an alternative to status quo, a shift from a GDP-centric to human-centric progress. It showed the world of what unites us, not what divides us

NARENDRA MODI
PRIME MINISTER OF INDIA

TODAY marks 365 days since India assumed the G20 Presidency. It is a moment to reflect, recommit, and rejuvenate the spirit of 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam, 'One Earth, One Family, One Future.'

As we undertook this responsibility last year, the global landscape grappled with multifaceted challenges: recovery from the Covid-19 pandemic, looming climate threats, financial instability, and debt distress in developing nations, all amid declining multilateralism. In the midst of conflicts and competition, development cooperation suffered, impeding progress.

Assuming the G20 Chair, India sought to offer the world an alternative to status quo, a shift from a GDP-centric to human-centric progress. India aimed to remind the world of what unites us, rather than what divides us. Finally, the global conversation had to evolve — the interests of the few had to give way to the aspirations of the many. This required a fundamental reform of multilateralism as we knew it.

Inclusive, ambitious, action-oriented, and decisive — these four words defined our approach as G20 president, and the New Delhi Leaders' Declaration (NDLD), unanimously adopted by all G20 members, is testimony to our commitment to deliver on these principles.

Inclusivity has been at the heart of our presidency. The inclusion of the African Union (AU) as a permanent member of the G20 integrated 55 African nations into the forum, expanding it to encompass 80% of the global population. This proactive stance has fostered a more comprehensive dialogue on global challenges and opportunities.

The first-of-its-kind 'Voice of the Global South Summit,' convened by India in two editions, heralded a new dawn of multilateralism. India mainstreamed the Global South's concerns in international discourse and has ushered in an era where developing countries take their rightful place in shaping the global narrative.

Inclusivity also infused India's domestic approach to G20, making it a People's Presidency that befits that world's largest democracy. Through "Jan Bhagidari" (people's participation) events, G20 reached 1.4 billion citizens, involving all states and Union Territories (UTs) as partners. And on substantive elements, India ensured that international attention was directed to broader developmental aims, aligning with G20's mandate.

At the critical midpoint of the 2030 Agenda, India delivered the G20 2023 Action Plan to Accelerate Progress on the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), taking a cross-cutting, action-oriented approach to interconnected issues, including health, education, gender equality and environmental sustainability.

A key area driving this progress is robust Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI). Here, India was decisive in its recommendations, having witnessed the revolutionary impact of digital innovations like Aadhaar, UPI, and Digilocker firsthand. Through G20, we successfully completed the Digital Public Infrastructure Repository, a significant stride in global technological collaboration. This repository, featuring over 50 DPIs from 16 countries, will help the Global South build, adopt, and scale DPI to unlock the power of inclusive growth.

For our One Earth, we introduced ambitious and inclusive aims to create urgent, lasting, and equitable change. The Declaration's 'Green Development Pact' addresses the challenges of choosing between combating hunger and protecting the planet, by outlining a comprehensive roadmap where employment and ecosystems are complimentary, consumption is climate conscious, and production is planet-friendly. In tandem, the G20 Declaration calls for an ambitious tripling of global renewable energy capacity by 2030. Coupled with the establishment of the Global Biofuels Alliance and a concerted push for Green Hydrogen, the G20's ambitions to build a cleaner, greener world is undeniable. This has always been India's ethos, and through Lifestyles for Sustainable Development (LiFE), the world can benefit from our age-old sustainable traditions.

Further, the Declaration underscores our commitment to climate justice and equity, urging substantial financial and technological support from the Global North. For the first time, there was a recognition of the quantum jump needed in the magnitude of development financing, moving from billions to trillions of dollars. G20 acknowledged that developing countries require $5.9 trillion to fulfil their Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) by 2030.

Given the monumental resources required, G20 emphasised the importance of better, larger, and more effective Multilateral Development Banks. Concurrently, India is taking a leading role in UN reforms, especially in the restructuring of principal organs like the UN Security Council, that will ensure a more equitable global order.

Gender equality took centre stage in the Declaration, culminating in the formation of a dedicated Working Group on the Empowerment of Women next year. India's Women's Reservation Bill 2023, reserving one-third of India's Parliament and state legislative assembly seats for women epitomizes our commitment to women-led development.

The New Delhi Declaration embodies a renewed spirit of collaboration across these key priorities, focusing on policy coherence, reliable trade and ambitious climate action. It is a matter of pride that during our Presidency, G20 achieved 87 outcomes and 118 adopted documents, a marked rise from the past.

During our G20 Presidency, India led deliberations on geopolitical issues and their impact on economic growth and development. Terrorism and the senseless killing of civilians is unacceptable, and we must address it with a policy of zero-tolerance. We must embody humanitarianism over hostility and reiterate that this is not an era of war.

I am delighted that during our Presidency India achieved the extraordinary: it revitalised multilateralism, amplified the voice of the Global South, championed development, and fought for the empowerment of women, everywhere.

As we hand over the G20 Presidency to Brazil, we do so with the conviction that our collective steps for people, planet, peace, and prosperity, will resonate for years to come.

International and domestic inclusivity key to policy

Inclusivity has been at the heart of India's G20 presidency. The inclusion of the African Union as a permanent member integrated 55 African nations into the forum, expanding it to encompass 80% of the global population. Inclusivity also infused India's domestic approach to G20, making it a People's Presidency that befits that world's largest democracy.

Day before hearing of plea, 8 Naval veterans in Qatar get gym access

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AS the families of the eight Indian naval veterans, held captive in Doha since August 2022, gear up for the next hearing on Thursday (November 30), there is a reason for them to cheer. Qatar's interior ministry has given the men access to fitness-related activities such as a gym.

"The mental health of these eight navy men was being impacted from the time they were picked up. Some of them withdrew into a shell due to the uncertainty, solitary confinement (which was later converted into twin-sharing) and the announcement of death penalty. The Qatar's interior ministry has recently permitted these eight men to take part in some fitness activities and play sports including badminton and tennis," said a source.

The weekly phone calls with family members continue. Also, the acceptance of their appeal by Qatar's Court of First Instance on November 23 had brought some respite. The acceptance of the appeal implies that Qatar will keep India in the loop before executing any punishment on these men.

"With the next hearing slated for Thursday, there are a lot of concerns on what the court will announce for these men. The families will continue to be on tenterhooks till they are repatriated," the source added.

Meanwhile, some family members are optimistic that the Emir of Qatar will pardon the men on the country's upcoming National Day on December 18.

"We can only be optimistic that our naval veterans are pardoned and repatriated. It has been a long and gruelling tenure for them in prison since August 30, 2022," the source added.

The eight navy veterans were working in their private capacity with Dahra Global to oversee the induction of Italian small stealth submarines U2I2 when they were picked by Qatar police.

States on high alert as child pneumonia cases rise in China

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

SEVERAL states, including Tamil Nadu, Rajasthan, Gujarat and Karnataka, have sprung into action and put their healthcare infrastructure on alert after the Centre issued a directive to review preparedness in the wake of a surge in respiratory illnesses, especially among children, in China. The other states that have put their health infrastructure on alert mode include Haryana and Uttarakhand.

The Centre on Sunday issued a directive asking the states to be alert and to review their preparedness to tackle such illnesses. Following the advisory, several states stepped up their surveillance and reviewed their hospital preparedness.

In Rajasthan, the state medical and health department directed its personnel to stay vigilant and set up rapid response teams. It also asked its officials to devise a plan for preventing and treating the disease. The state has instructed its officials to prepare an action plan and appoint nodal officers at district and medical college levels, and also establish rapid response teams at division and district levels. The state is also set to carry out a mock drill to ascertain the capacity of its health facilities.

The Gujarat health department issued a similar advisory to all government-run hospitals and private health facilities. Gujarat health and family welfare minister Rushikesh Patel said the state has inspected oxygen tanks, ventilators and the availability of beds.

The Karnataka health department has also issued an advisory advising people to be cautious of seasonal flu. The department listed the symptoms and risk factors of seasonal flu and also issued dos and don'ts. These include covering the mouth and nose while coughing or sneezing, frequent washing of hands, avoiding touching the face, and using masks in crowded areas.

The Uttarakhand government directed its officials to step up surveillance in the state, especially in three districts — Chamoli, Uttarkashi, and Pithoragarh — that share borders with China. In Tamil Nadu, government-run and private hospitals have been issued similar directions to boost hospital preparedness. The state health department said that while the southern state hasn't reported any child pneumonia cases yet, officials have been asked to keep vigil as a precautionary measure.

The hospitals have been asked to report cases of severe acute respiratory illness, critical respiratory infection, and influenza-like illness in the Integrated Disease Surveillance Programme-Integrated Health Information Platform portal.

Health advisory

In a statement, the health ministry had said that given the recent reports indicating a surge in respiratory illness in children in northern China in recent weeks, it has proactively decided to review the preparedness against respiratory diseases as a matter of caution. It has monitored the situation in China and stressed that there was "no cause for any alarm at the moment."

Govt extends PMGKAY for 5 years, to provide drones to 15,000 SHGs

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet, in a late evening meeting on Tuesday, approved extension of the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana (PMGKAY) for another five years, under which 5 kg of free food grains will be distributed to over 81.35 crore poor people, at a cost of ₹11.80 lakh crore to the exchequer.

The scheme, announced during the pandemic, was set to expire on December 31 this year. However, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, delivering the Independence Day speech from the ramparts of Red Fort on August 15 this year, had announced that the scheme will be extended further.

The Cabinet also approved a scheme to provide drones to 15,000 women-operated Self Help Groups (SHGs) with an outlay of ₹1,261 crore for two years, from 2024-25. The SHGs could rent these drones to farmers for agriculture purposes. "The women SHGs will be identified from about 89 lakh SHGs formed under the Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana," said Union minister Anurag Thakur.

Clearance was also given to continue fast-track special courts for another three years.

The scheme was extended for three years at a cost of ₹1,952.23 crore.

No India team in ministerial meet on Dec 3?

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Dubai

THE 28th United Nations Conference of Parties (COP28) opens on Thursday in Dubai, UAE, and for the first time, a health day is observed during which a climate-health ministerial meet will be held to build consensus on priority actions for the health system's response on climate change, paired with financing commitments for implementation.

The health day is on December 3. As per the information gathered by TNIE, close to 70 countries have confirmed sending their ministers, while there is no official communication from the Indian government on sending its health ministerial delegation to COP28 talks as on Wednesday.

A reliable source in the Union health ministry confirmed that as on date, neither the Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya, state ministers in the health and welfare departments or any secretary rank health official are attending the COP28.

Dr Aakash Shrivastava, head, Centre for Environmental Health and Occupational Health, Climate Change and Health at National Centre for Disease Control in New Delhi, told TNIE he was not sure of Indian health delegation participation. "The (health) ministry will take a call," he said. With just three days to go for the Health Day, it looks highly unlikely, say sources, adding that last-minute changes can't be ruled out.

The 28th United Nations Conference of Parties opens on Thursday in Dubai | EXPRESS

Jess Beagley, Policy Lead, Global Climate and Health Alliance (GCHA) said, "The first ever COP Climate-Health Ministerial is an opportunity to more deeply integrate health and climate decision-making. Despite climate and health considerations being intrinsically linked, these processes too often remain siloed. It is regrettable that India is not attending this pivotal meeting, especially given the high burden of air pollution in the country, which could be substantially addressed through considering health in climate action."

According to the GCHA Clean Air NDC (Nationally Determined Contributions) scorecard released in October 2023, India scores only 2 out of 15 available points for integrating air quality considerations into its NDCs. "The lack of deeper integration of air quality and health considerations, especially given the high rate of air pollution mortality, is a grave missed opportunity for optimising integrated action on climate and clean air. The provision of finance by developed countries to developing countries to support healthy climate action is vital," said Beagley, who is also a co-chair of Climate Action Network's Health Working Group at COP28.

Only recently India's capital New Delhi witnessed severe air pollution levels putting the health of its population at risk. India was the world's eight most polluted country in 2022 with PM2.5 level of 53.3 micrograms/cubic metre, which is over 10 times the WHO's safe limit. Air pollution in India resulted in 1.67 million deaths in 2019, the largest pollution-related death toll in any country.

Loss and damage fund

On the eve of COP28, a draft decision has been released by the presidency for operationalisation of the 'Loss and Damage' fund, its funding arrangement. Experts have long been demanding to provide funds as grants instead of loans or credit. The funds should be kept under the UN agency. The current proposal is to provide finance after considering the debt sustainability of the country.

Oppn unity call at book launch of Cong president's 50 yrs in politics

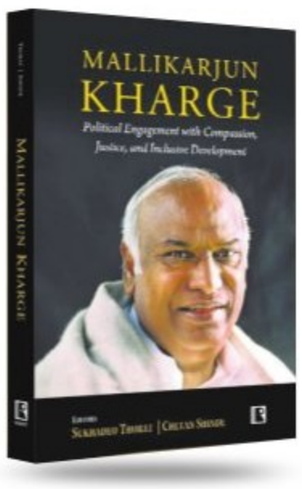
PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE state elections have kept the INDIA bloc busy for the past three months, but a renewed call for Opposition unity became the central theme of a book launch on Wednesday, to commemorate the political journey of Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge.

The book 'Mallikarjun Kharge – Political Engagement with Compassion, Justice and Inclusive Development', launched by former Congress president Sonia Gandhi, delves into the leader's 50 years long political journey as closely observed by his colleagues and friends from all walks of life.

While several senior Congress leaders attended the event, DMK's TR Baalu, RJD's Manoj Jha, CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury were the other leaders from the INDIA bloc who were present.

Urging the INDIA bloc parties to put up a united fight against the ruling BJP in the upcoming 2024 general election, Baalu extended his party's support to Congress and Kharge. "We want Khargeji to lead Congress as well as the INDIA bloc in the coming days," he said.



Yechury also turned the focus on the INDIA bloc, saying that Kharge has maintained sincerity and credibility during alliance talks in Telangana. "Whenever the talks fail, Kharge would come back and explain the reasons. There is no question of betrayal. That is credibility. All parties face difficulties. But one should have the courage to tell that," said Yechury.

Terming Kharge as a pillar of strength for Opposition parties, Jha said party leaders Lalu Prasad Yadav and Bihar Deputy CM Tejashwi Yadav have conveyed goodwill and commitment towards INDIA bloc. "My leaders have sent their commitment towards the INDIA bloc through me. What makes Kharge special is that when he stands in Parliament, he gives immense strength to the Opposition. Today, the Opposition needs a lot of strength and support," Jha said, adding that the election results to the five states are a few days away.

Kharge helms Congress at a crucial time: Sonia

Praising Kharge's commitment to public service, Sonia Gandhi said he helms Congress at a crucial juncture. "Those in power, unhinged from constitutional and institutional values, are subverting or demolishing all those institutions, systems and principles by which India has thrived since our Independence," said Gandhi, "As a strong leader, Kharge is best suited to lead the Congress in this historic battle for India's soul."

Yogi, Akhilesh spat over supplementary budget and dengue

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

IN a face-off with Leader of Opposition and SP chief Akhilesh Yadav in Assembly during the presentation of supplementary budget worth ₹28,000 crore on the second day of the winter session on Wednesday, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath asserted that the double engine government did not believe in just making statements, but also bringing them into reality.

"We do what we say," said the CM. In a counter-attack to Akhilesh Yadav's offensive against the government on the issue of dengue, CM Yogi accused the SP chief of 'politicising' dengue. He emphasized that dengue was completely under control in Uttar Pradesh because of the steps taken by the UP government. "You create chaos in society by politicising every issue, people saw your true face during the corona period," said the CM.

Notably, during the debate in the house, the leader of opposition had alleged that people were not getting treatment for dengue in government hospitals and were forced to seek treatment in private hospitals. Deputy CM and Health Minister Brajesh Pathak was answering the questions of the Leader of Opposition and SP MLAs in the house. However, amidst the noise of opposition MLAs, CM Yogi stood up and answered all the allegations.

CM Yogi said, "Right now, you have heard only half of the answer. If you listen to it completely, perhaps the history will come alive in your mind. You have only talked about dengue, but when we talk about vector-borne diseases, it also includes diseases like malaria, chikungunya, kala azar. A coordinated effort has been made at the government level for the treatment of all these related diseases."

CM Yogi asserted that the government had made funds available to even the opposition whenever they came up with proposals without any discrimination. Continuing his onslaught on Yadav, the CM said that the problem was that they were not interested in solving the problem. "People saw your malicious attempts during the pandemic when you were misleading them on the vaccine by calling it Modi vaccine," he said.

In his short speech, home minister asked people of West Bengal to elect Modi as PM in '24

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

USING Trinamool Congress' signature venue in front of Victoria House in Esplanade as a launch pad of campaign in the run up to next year's Lok Sabha election, Union home minister Amit Shah on Thursday launched a blistering attack on Mamata Banerjee and said the contentious CAA would be implemented despite the West Bengal CM's resistance and "no one can stop it".

"Bengal is gripped by infiltration, appeasement, political violence and corruption. CAA is now an act of the country and no one can stop its implementation. It will definitely be implemented despite Mamata-di's resistance," said Shah addressing the rally.

The CAA has been in a limbo as the Centre is yet to frame its rules amid the Opposition's strong objections.

Though the home minister had set a target of 35 Lok Sabha seats out of 42 in Bengal, he did not mention any number of seats as a goal in the next year's general elections. In 2019, the BJP had bagged 18 LS seats.

"The people of Bengal are saying Didi aapka samay ab samapt ho chukka (Didi, your time is up now). Modiji sends crores of rupees for ensuring welfare in Bengal, but the syndicate raj in the state doesn't allow the funds to reach the poor. You should remember that in order to bring the BJP government in power here in 2016, you will have to lay its foundation in the 2014 Lok Sabha elections and ensure that you make Modiji Prime Minister of the country again," said Shah in his 25-minute speech.

Shah did not miss the opportunity to play the Ram Mandir issue as a political card.

"The CPI(M), Congress and TMC were against the Ram temple. The Prime Minister will participate in the installation of the Lord Ram idol in Ayodhya on January 22," he announced.

Shah cited figures of the Centre's grants for West Bengal during the regime of NDA and compared it with the UPA government's tenure while castigating Mamata for staging demonstrations in protest against the dues from the Central government and rubbishing her allegations.

Referring to the result of the 2021 assembly election, Shah accused Mamata of winning the battle by rigging. "You won the election by rigging. The people of Bengal blessed the BJP with around 2.30 crore votes and 77 seats. Their enthusiasm states that they have decided to bring the BJP in power in 2026 in Bengal. We will derail the TMC-led government with a majority of two-third votes in 2026," he said.

Referring to arrests of TMC ministers in connection with alleged scams, Shah challenged Mamata to suspend them.

TMC spokesperson Kunal Ghosh said Shah knew that BJP would be washed away from Bengal and that was why he made false claims.

It was from the same venue in 2014 that Shah, as the then BJP president, had launched the party's 2016 poll campaign. This time the police had denied permission but the BJP moved the court, which dismissed the administration's contention.

TMC MPs accused of disgracing Parliament

Amit Shah, in an apparent reference to Mahua Moitra's cash-for-query case, asserted on Wednesday that TMC MPs have compromised the dignity of Parliament by accepting bribes and gifts. While addressing a mega rally in Kolkata, Shah called for the removal of the Trinamool Congress (TMC) government in the 2026 assembly polls, setting the stage for this initiative in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. "The TMC has stained West Bengal's reputation due to corruption," Shah stated without explicitly naming anyone.

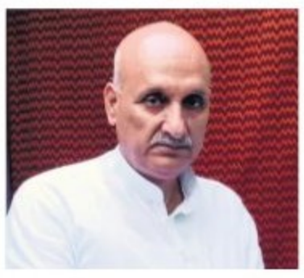
Unaware about revised holidays, says minister

Bihar education minister Prof Chandrashekhar created a flutter in political and academic circles when he claimed that he had no information about slashing of holidays in government schools. When a media channel asked Education Minister Chandrashekhar a question on the issue of holidays, he appeared to be unaware of it. He said, "I do not know about this. I am getting this information from you. This decision has not been taken at the government level. If there is something wrong, we will modify it." Bihar government, on the other hand, clarified that there is no cut in the number of holidays in schools.



New software launched to track criminals

Bihar Police will now track criminals on the basis of technology. For this, cops are working on a new software. With this, local police stations will get information about the criminals as soon as they are released from jail. At the same time, alerts can be sent to other states regarding members of interstate criminal gangs. Police Headquarters ADG Jitendra Singh Gangwar said Bihar Police is working on Crime (Criminal Multi Agency Centre) software. Police and related agencies of many states are connected to it. With the help of this software, information about criminals can be easily shared.

'No minister took notice of tunnel workers'

Even though Rashtriya Janata Dal chief Lalu Prasad alleged that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has no role to play in rescue of workers from the collapsed Silkyara-Barkot tunnel in Uttarakhand, family members and close relatives of the workers accused Nitish Kumar-led grand alliance government of utter neglect. Five workers from the state were among 41 others rescued after enduring 17-day ordeal. The relatives said that no officer or politician from ruling dispensation in Bihar bothered to visit them or take notice of their plight. RJD chief, on his return from New Delhi, said that PM Modi was falsely staking claim over rescue of the workers trapped under tunnel.

Row over Nitish minister flaying Dalit colleague

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

SENIOR JD(U) leader and SC/ST welfare minister Ratnesh Sada on Wednesday courted controversy after an audio clip in which he purportedly could be heard speaking against another senior JD(U) leader Ashok Choudhary, went viral on social media.

Incidentally, both Sada and Choudhary belong to Dalit community. The latter is the building construction minister in Nitish Kumar cabinet and is also considered to be close to the CM. In the audio clipping, Sada could be heard provoking his supporter to protest against Choudhary and also burn his effigy when it was pointed out to him that he was shabbily treated at recent 'Bhim Sansad' held at Veterinary College ground in the state capital on November 26.

Sada's alleged supporter told him that he was pained after he witnessed his leader (Sada) was being 'sidelined' at the event aimed at winning over SC voters. A senior JD(U) leader said that Choudhary is taking advantage of his close proximity with the CM, which may lead to dropping of one minister.

'Landslips in Shimla in August due to poor drainage, urbanisation'

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

UNPLANNED urbanisation, unorganised drainage systems, burdened hill slopes leading to landslides, oversaturation of sub-soil strata and heavy rains during the monsoon were responsible for the disaster that struck Shimla during the monsoon furry in August this year.

The hill state witnessed unprecedented rains in two spells — in July and in August — which led to cloudbursts, landslides and flash floods across the state. It damaged property worth crores of rupees and several people lost their lives.

An eight-member committee of the Himachal Pradesh Council for Science, Technology and Environment (HIMCOSTE), which studied 16 locations in Shimla, gave a 33-page report, which said, "Geographically, Shimla is situated over a dislocated block formed by the tectonic dislocation of older rocks, overridden by the younger formations along the jutogh thrust....Most of the events that took place during the current monsoon season in Shimla may be due to the thick debris cover as observed in most of the cases which resulted in slope failure due to oversaturation of the sub surface material supporting these slopes."

"Over the period of time, the expansion of Shimla has also resulted in the development of unplanned drainage systems and their open disposal on the slopes further contributing to making them unstable," it adds.

The report also pointed out the uprooting of deodar trees. "The uprooting of the deodar trees from vertical slopes during heavy precipitation has also resulted in the failure of the slopes supporting thick soil cover or debris cover leading to debris flow. A large number of trees have been uprooted during the heavy precipitation, may be due to their decreasing binding strength.

Atal Dulloo named new J&K chief secy

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

SENIOR IAS officer Atal Dulloo has been appointed as the new chief secretary of Jammu and Kashmir, replacing the incumbent chief secretary Arun Kumar Mehta, who is retiring on Thursday.

Dulloo, a native of Jammu and Kashmir, will be the first native chief secretary of Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) Union Territory (UT) after the bifurcation of erstwhile the J&K state into two UTs on August 5, 2019. The last J&K native who worked as J&K chief secretary was B R Sharma from 2015-2017. Before his elevation to the top bureaucracy post in J&K, the Central government had on November 20 repatriated Dulloo to his UT cadre.

Dulloo, a 1989-batch Indian Administrative Service officer of Arunachal Pradesh-Goa-Mizoram and Union Territory cadre, was serving as secretary, Department of Border Management, under the home ministry before his repatriation to J&K Union Territory.

A seasoned bureaucrat, Dulloo had held various assignments in J&K in the past few decades.

24 workers hurt as fire breaks out at chemical plant in Surat city

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AT least 24 workers were injured as a fire broke out at a chemical plant in Gujarat's Surat city after an explosion in a storage tanker. Three of the injured workers were admitted to a hospital in critical condition.

The blaze erupted at the factory located in Sachin GIDC industrial area at around 2 am. "The explosion occurred in a chemical company's chemical storage tank containing the combustible chemical substance Tetrahydrofuran, and the fire spread throughout the unit," an official said.

When the fire broke out, there were approximately 100 to 150 labourers on the night shift and the 24, who received varying degrees of burn injuries, were immediately sent to private hospital in Sachin GIDC. The critically injured individuals were later transferred to different hospitals.

A factory worker named Shravan said, "We were working on the second floor when we heard a blast, so we ran away. An ambulance and an additional medical team had already arrived by the time we descended."

The blast caused a fire in the three-storeyed building of the factory and engulfed the entire unit.

Leader of the Gujarat Congress Opposition Amit Chavda blamed the government for the fire incident, saying, "We demand that the government conduct a proper investigation and give proper compensation to the injured. In Surat, there have been blasts and leakages in chemical factories for a long time, the government is not taking any proper action."

UP's Bundelkhand home to 'rat-hole miners'

NAMITA BAJPAI/ NARENDRA SETHI
@Lucknow/ Dehradun

NESTLED in the heart of the historic Bundelkhand region, Jhansi has recently brought its 'rat-hole miners' to the forefront, illuminating their indispensable role in the most challenging situations.

These skilled individuals, beyond mere headlines, demonstrated their prowess by rescuing 41 lives from a choked tunnel in Uttarakhand, employing techniques echoing a centuries-old tradition.

In a crisis where a cutting-edge US-made auger machine fell short, the 'rat-hole' mining expertise emerged as the saviour. Led by Prasad Lodi from Jhansi, a team of six adept 'rat miners,' armed with only hammers, trowels, and shovels, joined forces with the Indian Army, NDRF, and SDRF rescue teams. Together, they successfully breached the rocky terrain, bringing trapped miners to safety after a harrowing 17 days.

Colonel Deepak Patel, leading the Silkier rescue operation, emphasised the collective efforts, highlighting the pivotal role played by these "rat miners" in crucial moments. "It was the result of collective efforts of all, every rescue worker contributed significantly to it, definitely the role of "rat miners" was decisive at the last minute"

Rat-hole mining, deeply rooted in antiquity, involves manually extracting resources through narrow horizontal passages. Historically, this method played a crucial role in constructing 16th-century temples in the Bundelkhand region, renowned for its historical monuments, forts, and temples.

The prevalence of rat-hole mining in Jhansi is attributed to its rocky plateau with a bedrock of hard granite, making conventional drilling challenging. Earth scientists note that this primitive method is employed by rock cutters to create wells and ponds where explosives cannot be used due to the hard rock composition.

Local sources reveal that 'rat miners,' colloquially known as 'khagars,' hail from various communities. From quarrying to underpass creation, and even well and pond construction, their expertise spans a wide spectrum using tools such as hammers and shovels.

There was not a moment of despair in tunnel rescue operation, say experts

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

IN what is being termed as the most challenging rescue operation in India thus far, there was not a single instance when the rescue team had lost hope of rescuing the 41 workers who were trapped in the Silkyara tunnel (in Uttarakhand) for 17 days.

Speaking to this newspaper soon after he landed in Delhi from Silkyara, Lt Gen Harpal Singh (Retd), former Engineering-Chief and Director General, Border Roads Organisation (BRO), who was a member of the rescue team said it was by far the "most" challenging rescue operation he had seen and also, the "best" example in which all government agencies including the Army and Air Force had worked in "seamless coordination" with each other.

"It was an all-of-a-nation approach and directly controlled by the Prime Minister's Office (PMO). All possible technologies, equipment, experts including the President of the International Tunnelling and Underground Space Association, Arnold Dix were roped in to bring the 41 trapped workers out safely," said Singh. He added that it was the "most heartening moment to see the workers walk out of the collapsed tunnel smiling, physically, mentally and emotionally fit."

Speaking about the rescue operation, Singh said that they had to take firm, but baby steps to dig softly inside the collapsed tunnel because of the unstable Himalayan terrain. "The part of the tunnel which collapsed is geologically very frail. Any aggressive drilling to reach out to the trapped men would have led to further collapse of the tunnel endangering the lives of the men. The safety of the trapped workers and the rescuers was the top priority of the operation. There were some setbacks after the blades of the Auger drill machine got stuck with the steel in the debris. We realised that classical clearing of the debris would lead to further collapse of the tunnel.

That's when we decided to deploy a khodo (diggers) party or the rat miners, who dug by hand, metre by metre and cleared the debris with traditional digging tools to make small openings," said the Army veteran.

Rat miners work in coal mines and for underground infrastructure such as laying down of sewer lines. The National Green Tribunal (NGT) had banned rat hole mining practice in 2014 because of its hazardous nature leading to the death of workers. The former BRO DG is credited with the resurgence of BRO in 2018 and construction of the Atal Tunnel, Mansarovar Yatra Road, Daulat Beg Oldi road.

'Geologically frail'

Lt Gen Harpal Singh said the part of the tunnel which collapsed is geologically very frail. Any aggressive drilling to reach out to the trapped men would have led to further collapse of the tunnel endangering the lives of the men

Afghan embassy in Delhi continues to be operational

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

Zakia Wardak | TWITTER

FIVE days after former Ambassador of Afghanistan in India, Farid Mamundzay, claimed that their embassy in Delhi was closed permanently, Afghanistan's political deputy of Foreign Affairs, Sher Mohammad Abbas Stanakzai, on Wednesday said embassy will continue to function as usual.

In an interview to Afghanistan's national television, Stanakzai said embassy in Delhi was in contact with the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), while the Afghan consulates in Mumbai and Hyderabad were active. India has not yet recognised the Taliban government. The Consul General of Mumbai, Zakia Wardrak, has been overseeing the functioning of the embassy in Delhi. Past diplomats of the Afghan embassy in Delhi have sought asylum in other countries, which is one of the main reasons for the Afghan embassy to be in a state of disarray.

"We met officials from MEA and the local staff of Afghan embassy in Delhi and have given them the assurance that the embassy will continue to work for the people of Afghanistan,'' said Zakia Wardak in a statement.

The Afghan embassy had in a statement on November 24 (the day former Ambassador Mamundzay made a statement of closure) reiterated that the embassy was functional.

"In view of the historical and civilisational ties and friendly relations between India and Afghanistan, we reiterate that we have decided to ensure continued functioning of the Embassy of the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan in New Delhi - which is the symbol of aspiration and hopes of Afghan people," according to statement.

The statement also said that there would be consular services for Afghan nationals in Delhi. "We request everyone to kindly ignore and disregard the unprofessional and irresponsible communications issued by the former Afghan diplomats who are based abroad and therefore now onwards have no locus standi in the internal affairs of Afghan Embassy in Delhi.' the statement added.

At least one killed as US Osprey crashes off Japan

Tokyo: A US Osprey military aircraft crashed on Wednesday off a Japanese island, killing one crew member and leaving five unaccounted for, the coastguard said, in the latest incident involving the tilt-rotor military aircraft. One unconscious person had been found in the sea near the scene of the crash off the island of Yakushima but was later "confirmed dead in hospital", the coastguard said in a statement. It also revised downwards an earlier statement to say that six crew had been on board instead of eight. An emergency management official in the Kagoshima region said police had received information that the aircraft had been "spewing fire from a left engine".

MEDIATORS LOOK TO EXTEND GAZA TRUCE

The Israeli military says Hamas began releasing 12 hostages from captivity in the Gaza Strip late Wednesday

RAFAH

INTERNATIONAL mediators appeared to make progress on Wednesday on extending the truce in Gaza, encouraging Hamas militants to keep freeing hostages in exchange for the release of Palestinian prisoners and further relief from Israel's air and ground offensive. The cease-fire will otherwise end within a day.

A source close to the militant group said on Wednesday that Hamas is willing to extend a truce for four days and release more Israeli hostages in exchange for Palestinian prisoners.

Hamas on Wednesday "informed the mediators that it is willing to extend the truce for four days," a source close to the militant group said on condition of anonymity.

Israel has welcomed the release of hostages in recent days and says it will maintain the truce if Hamas keeps freeing captives. But it also says it is committed to its other major goal—the annihilation of the armed group that has ruled Gaza for 16 years and orchestrated the deadly attack on Israel that triggered the war—however hard that might be.

Palestinians cook bread by their destroyed homes in Kuza' a Gaza Strip during the temporary ceasefire | AFP

Late on Wednesday Israeli military says Hamas began releasing 12 hostages from captivity in the Gaza Strip. Among them are two Russian-Israeli women, who exited Gaza on Wednesday evening. Israel is set to free some 30 Palestinian prisoners.

Weeks of heavy aerial bombardment and a ground invasion have demolished vast swaths of northern Gaza and killed thousands of Palestinians. But it seems to have had little effect on Hamas' rule, evidenced by its ability to conduct complex negotiations, enforce the cease-fire among other armed groups, and orchestrate the smooth release of hostages.

Yehya Sinwar and other Hamas leaders have likely relocated to the south, along with hundreds of thousands of displaced Palestinians who have packed into overflowing shelters. The Biden administration has told Israel that if it resumes the offensive it must operate with far greater precision, especially in the south. That approach could make it more difficult to bring Hamas to its knees any time soon, and international pressure for a lasting cease-fire is already mounting. US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said he would work to prolong a pause in the fighting in Gaza on an upcoming visit to Israel.

Diaa Rashwan, head of Egypt's state information services, said negotiations to extend the ceasefire and release more hostages have made progress and that it is "highly likely" another extension will be announced on Wednesday. Agencies

Families rejoice as hostages and prisoners make their way home

TEL AVIV/RAMALLAH

AS prisoners and hostages slowly return to their homes, stories of family reunions flood the media.

In the occupied West Bank city of Ramallah on Tuesday night, as every evening since Friday, crowds gathered to welcome home the latest group of Palestinians freed under a prisoner-hostage exchange deal struck between Israel and Hamas that paused fighting in the Gaza Strip.

And on Tuesday, like every other night, the arrival of the white bus carrying the freed prisoners was greeted with an explosion of joy in the Palestinian territory.

A red keffiyeh scarf around her neck and a beaming smile on her face, Rouba Assi fell into her friends' arms after being freed from an Israeli prison. "I missed you so much," said the 23-year-old activist, as the crowd around her hoisted her to their shoulders, chanting "Welcome back! Welcome back!"

A released Israeli hostage

Her parents, still in visible disbelief at her release after six months in an Israeli jail, could not take their eyes off her.

Similar scenes took place in Israel as hostages that were recently freed recalled their period of captivity. An Israeli hostage freed by Hamas said in an interview that she was initially fed well in captivity until conditions worsened and people became hungry. She was kept in a "suffocating" room and slept on plastic chairs with a sheet for nearly 50 days.

78-year-old Ruti Munder who was freed Friday, returned in good physical condition, like most other captives. But one of the released hostages, an 84-year-old woman, has been hospitalized in life-threatening condition after not receiving proper care in captivity, doctors said. Another freed captive needed surgery. Agencies

India backs UNGA's demand for Israel to withdraw from Golan

UNITED NATIONS

INDIA has voted in favour of a draft resolution in the UN General Assembly that expressed deep concern over Israel not withdrawing from the Syrian Golan.

The Syrian Golan is a region in southwest Syria that was occupied by Israeli forces on June 5, 1967.

The 193-member UN General Assembly voted on the draft resolution 'The Syrian Golan' under agenda item 'The situation in the Middle East' on Tuesday. The resolution, introduced by Egypt, was adopted by a recorded vote with 91 in favour, eight against and 62 abstentions. Apart from India, those voting in favour included Bangladesh, Bhutan, China, Malaysia, Maldives, Nepal, Russia, South Africa, Sri Lanka and the UAE. Australia, Canada, Israel, the UK and the US voted against it. The resolution said it is deeply concerned Israel has not withdrawn from the Syrian Golan, which has been under occupation since 1967, contrary to relevant Security Council and General Assembly resolutions. The resolution declared Israel failed to comply with Security Council resolution 497 (1981), which decided that "the Israeli decision to impose its laws, jurisdiction and administration in the occupied Syrian Golan Heights is null and void and without international legal effect." The resolution also declared Israeli decision of December 14, 1981, null and void and said it had no validity whatsoever.

US to launch domestic work visa renewal programme in December

WASHINGTON

IN a move that will benefit a significantly large number of Indian technology professionals, the US is set to begin a pilot programme for domestic renewal of certain categories of H-1B visas in December.

The H-1B visa is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in speciality occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise.

Technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China. The pilot programme which will be limited to 20,000 participants initially comes months after the White House announced the plan during the state visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in June.

Julie Stufft, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Visa Services, said. "...We want to make sure that Indian travellers can get appointments as quickly as possible. One way we are doing that is through the domestic visa renewal programme, which is focused very much on India. We are piloting that," she said.

Over a period of 3 months, beginning in December, the State Department will be issuing 20,000 visas to foreign nationals who are already inside the country. "We will do 20,000 in the first group. The vast majority of those will be Indian nationals living in the US and we will expand as it goes on. The plan, which was mentioned in the joint statement and announced by Modi during his address to Indian diaspora has been cheered and welcomed by the Indian community in US.

Stufft said there will be a federal register notice, which is first official notice of this coming out very soon, and that will describe all of steps that need to be taken and who is eligible to apply in first tranche. PTI

140K VISAS ISSUED TO INDIAN STUDENTS IN '22
As part of the Biden administration's endeavour to promote people-to-people ties with India, the US issued more than 1,40,000 visas to Indian students last year and is taking several steps to reduce visa appointment wait period. Julie Stufft, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Visa Services, said US missions in India worked six, seven days a week to make sure that students could be interviewed before their classes started.

French justice min acquitted in conflict of interest case

PARIS

A French court on Wednesday acquitted France's justice minister in a conflict of interest trial that has been an embarrassment for President Emmanuel Macron's government. Eric Dupond-Moretti, a pugnacious former star defence lawyer, had in 2021 been charged with misusing his position to settle scores with judges who investigated him during his legal career.

His acquittal "is clearly very satisfying," one of his lawyers, Jacqueline Laffont, told reporters, adding that "this is what we hoped for, and what the law demanded". Dupond-Moretti stood trial before Court of Justice of the Republic (CJR), which judges incumbent or former ministers for alleged offences committed while in office. Dupond-Moretti's case related to administrative inquiries on the minister's watch into three judges. The three judges had ordered police in 2014 to examine the phone records of dozens of lawyers and magistrates, including Dupond-Moretti, as part of an investigation into former president Nicolas Sarkozy.

"For me and my loved ones this trial is an infamy," Dupond-Moretti said at the start of proceedings earlier this month.

Technically, Dupond-Moretti faced up to five years in prison, a fine of around $547,000 and a ban from holding public office, if found guilty.

But the prosecutor —while saying that Dupond-Moretti had "crossed lines that he never should have crossed" —recommended a one-year suspended prison sentence for the 62-year-old. AFP

MULLING OVER ARTIFICIAL ISLANDS

Singapore has said it is considering building artificial islands off its east coast to protect low-lying areas against rising sea levels caused by climate change. Engineering and environmental impact studies for the "Long Island" project will start in 2024 and take 5 years to finish, National Development Minister Desmond Lee said. Land reclaimed for the project could span 1,980 acres, giving the densely populated city-state more space for homes. PM Lee Hsien Loong warned in 2019 that rising sea levels posed a "grave threat" to Singapore.

TOXIC SMOG SURROUNDS JAKARTA

Pollution is causing a rise in respiratory illnesses and deaths in northern Java, including Jakarta, experts say. Smog in the metropolis of 11.2 million people comes from a combination of the coal-fired plants, vehicle and motorcycle exhaust, trash burning and industries, and many in the city are demanding that the government take action. Emissions from coal-fired power plants contribute to greenhouse gases that rise into the atmosphere and help heat the planet, a key focus of the United Nations climate conference, or COP28, which begins next week in Dubai.

ARGENTINA'S PREZ-ELECT NAMES ECONOMY MINISTER

Argentina's President-elect Javier Milei announced he has chosen Luis Caputo, a former finance minister and Central Bank chief known as an expert in markets, to lead the Economy Ministry when the right-wing leader takes office on Dec. 10

TENSIONS WITHIN THE PARTY
Macri's party backed Milei in the November 19 presidential runoff and now his allies are jockeying for positions inside the president-elect's Cabinet, leading to some tensions with his traditional libertarian allies

DOLLARIZATION OF THE ECONOMY
The closure of the Central Bank was part of a broad plan that would eventually lead to the dollarization of the economy, replacing the local peso currency with the US dollar.

ABOUT LUIS CAPUTO
As the first finance minister in former conservative President Mauricio Macri's government, Caputo was in charge of debt restructuring

Since his election, Milei has made clear the dollarization plan is on the backburner and could only become a reality once a slew of other measures are taken to shore up the economy

ORTHODOX TEAM
The pick confirms that Milei, a libertarian outsider, is building a more orthodox team to manage Argentina's economy, which is suffering from inflation running at an annual rate of 143%

ARGENTINA'S INFLATION
The market has welcomed signs of Milei's more orthodox choices for key Cabinet positions. Argentine stocks and bonds have increased while the local currency, the peso, has appreciated slightly since he won the election

CLOSURE OF CENTRAL BANK
One of Milei's main campaign promises involved getting rid of the Central Bank of Argentina as he said

Imran Khan not to contest for party's chief post; names close aide instead

ISLAMABAD

JAILED former prime minister Imran Khan will not contest intra-party polls and has instead nominated Barrister Gohar Khan for the post of Pakis'tan Tehreek-e-Insaf chairman to lead the party in upcoming general elections, a top leader said on Wednesday.

Barrister Ali Zafar announced that Chairman Imran Khan would not be contesting intra-party polls scheduled for December 2 and Barrister Gohar Khan had been nominated for the slot of party chairman, Dawn reported.

His statement comes a day after confusion erupted within Imran Khan's party after it dismissed a statement by one of its own senior leaders, who claimed that the jailed leader would not contest for the chairman's post in the upcoming intra-party polls.

"Imran Khan was, is and will continue to be the chairman of Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf... I will carry out my responsibility till Khan returns," Gohar Khan said. Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) is set to conduct intra-party elections within the 20-day time frame set by the election commission to retain the 'bat' as its electoral symbol, ahead of general elections scheduled to be held on Feb 8.

Barrister Gohar Khan will be the candidate for PTI's chairmanship, Senior Vice-President Sher Afzal Marwat said on Tuesday, hours after Khan, 71, reportedly decided against retaining the top post due to legal hurdles as the party heads towards internal polls, Geo News reported.

Khan remains behind bars in Adiala jail and is entangled in several legal battles. His party, strongly rebutted the 'speculation' over the election of a new party chairman.

The party's Core Committee on Monday gave formal approval to hold the intra-party polls within the time frame of 20 days given by the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP).

If the party does not follow the orders, it will lose its bat symbol PTI

Indian equity mkt hits $4 trn m-cap

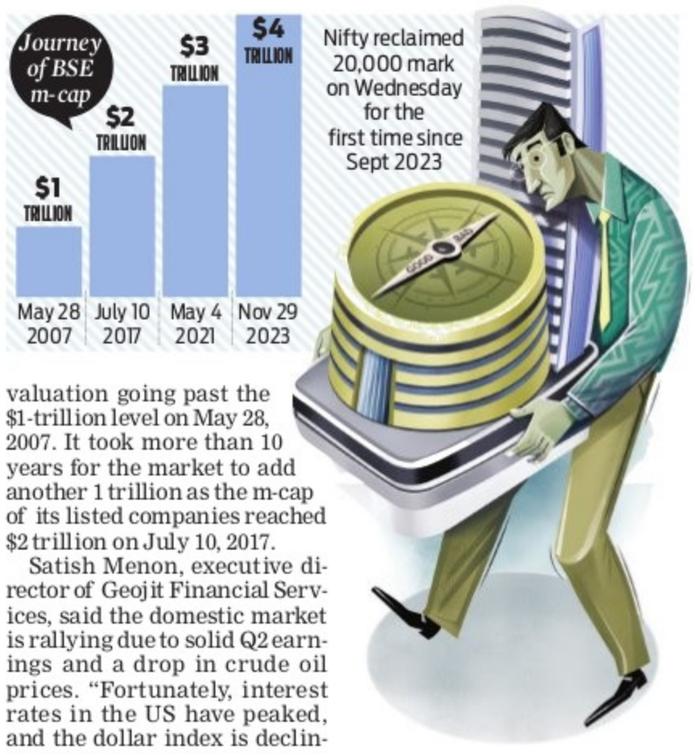
Joins the ranks of US, China, Japan and Hong Kong where markets valued in excess of $4 trn

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market achieved a milestone on Wednesday as it hit a $4 trillion valuation after the market capitalisation of all the BSE-listed firms surpassed the ₹333 lakh crore mark.

The market now joins the ranks of the US, China, Japan and Hong Kong where the stock markets are valued in excess of $4 trillion. This came as the Nifty50 reclaimed the 20,000 mark on the same day for the first time since September 2023. The Nifty50, along with BSE Sensex, gained over 1% each on Wednesday on the back of favourable global cues such as expectation of an interest rate cut, softening of oil prices and a correction in the dollar index.

The equity market added the last $1 trillion mark at a brisk pace as the m-cap of all BSE-listed firms had touched the $3 trillion mark on May 24, 2021. The BSE had seen listed firms' valuation going past the $1-trillion level on May 28, 2007. It took more than 10 years for the market to add another 1 trillion as the m-cap of its listed companies reached $2 trillion on July 10, 2017.



Satish Menon, executive director of Geojit Financial Services, said the domestic market is rallying due to solid Q2 earnings and a drop in crude oil prices. "Fortunately, interest rates in the US have peaked, and the dollar index is declining, which is expected to attract foreign institutional investors (FIIs) into the Indian equity market. The consistent decline in the Consumer Price Index over the past four months has also sent out a positive signal to the market," added Menon.

The $4 trillion milestone also comes at a time when the Chinese economy is facing difficulty in maintaining its growth. This, according to experts, has put India on centre stage and a favourite among the investor community. Foreign brokerage CLSA in a recent report said India's searing GDP growth will propel it to the top three of the globe's largest economies, from just $3.6 trillion today to larger than Japan's by 2027, hitting $29 trillion by 2047 and $45 trillion by 2052.

It estimates India to overtake Japan in nominal GDP in dollar terms by 2027. "China and the US will be the only economies that will be bigger than India by then," CLSA said.

Govt launches auction for strategic minerals

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government on Wednesday launched the first round of auctions for critical and strategic minerals, including the recently discovered lithium in Jammu.

In this initial phase, nearly 20 blocks in Odisha, Tamil Nadu, Jammu & Kashmir, Chhattisgarh, Bihar, Jharkhand, Uttar Pradesh, and Gujarat will be put up for auction. Out of the blocks, 16 are designated for the grant of a composite licence, and 4 are allocated for the grant of a mining lease. The minerals on auction include lithium and REE, nickel and copper, nickel and chromium, phosphorite, potash, galuconite, graphite, manganese, and molybdenum.

"With today's launch, 20 blocks of critical and strategic minerals will be auctioned across the country. It is a historic moment with the country taking a leap in the domain of sustainable mining and promotion of clean energy technologies," said the coal and mining minister Parhald Joshi.

Mining ministry has identified 100 blocks thus far, with 20 of them currently placed for auction. As per the minister, total value of minerals in these blocks is estimated to be ₹45,000 crore. Following the completion of the auction process for these blocks, the remaining ones will be made available for auction after February 2024.

The government believes this move will not only make India self-reliant in minerals but also significantly reduce the country's import bill, which currently amounts to ₹24,000 crore for importing lithium alone. This would be significant in the case of minerals like lithium, graphite, cobalt, and thallium, which are essential components in various products, including electric vehicles, semiconductors, and solar panels.

The sale of tender documents commenced on November 29, 2023. A pre-bid conference with prospective bidders is scheduled for December 22, 2023. The last date for the sale of tender documents is January 16, 2024, and the deadline for bid submission is January 22, 2024.

ED notice on technical grounds; anticipating a minimal fine: Byju's

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

EDTECH firm Byju's on Wednesday said the notice served on it by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) was purely on technical grounds, and that it didn't indulge in any wrong doing in relation to receipt of FDI or allotment of shares.

The company further says that it anticipates a nominal fine for delay in filing of certain documents.

In a statement issued on Wednesday, a Byju's spokesperson on said the queries received in the (ED) notice are solely technical in nature such as delay in filing annual performance reports (APRs) with respect to duly compliant ODI investments of close to ₹8,000 crore that arose from the delayed statutory audit (FY22).

The spokesperson reiterated that the firm has filed requisite intimation contemporaneously for all FDIs, which are received in accordance with the eligibility criteria in law. The company clarified that it has issued/allotted shares within the prescribed time against the FDI so received.

> BYJU'S maintains and will continue to maintain complete adherence to relevant FEMA regulations, as verified by due diligence conducted by reputable law firms
>
> Byju's spokesperson

The company on November 21 was served a show-cause notice by the ED under FEMA (Foreign Exchange Management Act) violations in relation to FDI worth ₹9,362.35 crore.

The company says it anticipates the fines, if any, will be nominal. As per the company spokesperson, the late submission fee for such reporting delays that can be imposed with respect to APRs is very nominal (₹7,500).

"We want to reassure you that BYJU'S maintains and will continue to maintain complete adherence to all relevant FEMA regulations, as verified by comprehensive due diligence conducted by reputable law firms," said the company spokesperson.

Meanwhile, the Netherlands-based investment firm Prosus has marked down Byju's valuation to less than $3 billion. The edtech firm was once valued at $22 billion, and this means about 86% decline from its valuation.

In its recent earnings call, Ervin Tu, interim CEO of Prosus said, "We are not disclosing the valuation, but it is sub-$3 billion." The investment firm owns a 9.6% stake in the firm. Byju's has been facing many challenges of late, and earlier in June, Prosus had marked down its valuation to $5.1 billion.

Religare Ent board has no power to reject open offer: Burman family

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN the ongoing tussle between the Burman family and directors of Religare Enterprises Ltd (REL), the former on Wednesday said the Religare board has no power to reject its open offer for the company.

This statement by the Burmans came after an independent director of Religare criticised the timing of the open offer and called it 'fishy'.

"The Board of REL does not have the power or authority to reject our open offer. It only has the power to recommend the open offer to the shareholders. It is a separate matter, that the shareholders have already seen the governance lapses in Religare Enterprises and whether the directors can be said to be discharging their duties correctly.

Ultimately, it is for the shareholders to decide whether to tender the shares in the open offer or stay invested, post regulatory approvals to the open offer," said spokesperson of Burman family.

The Burmans claim the open offer price is calculated as per the formula provided in the Sebi Takeover Regulations. As per this formula, the calculation comes to around ₹221.

"The open offer price of ₹235, is at a premium to that price. Keeping the overall shareholder interest in mind, we will move towards closing the transaction expeditiously working with all the regulators. Given our credentials, an overwhelming majority of the shareholders are supportive of the proposed transaction and we remain confident that under our guidance, REL's performance would see significant uptrends," the spokesperson added.

Since the Burmans on September 25 announced their intention to acquire Religare through an open offer, the two sides have exchanged serious blows.

Religare board, led by Chairperson Rashmi Saluja, has accused the Burman family of market manipulation and their involvement in various "frauds and financial improprieties" which are under investigation. The Burman family has accused Saluja of violating the insider trading rules and raised objections on her annual compensation.

Rahul's innings as India coach continues

Incumbent head coach signs extension with unanimous board backing, contract likely to be revisited after T20 WC

GOMESH S @ Chennai

T20 World Cup semifinalist, World Test Championship and ODI World Cup finalists. That is how Rahul Dravid's coaching resume would have read after India's loss against Australia in Ahmedabad less than two weeks ago. At that moment, it did seem like that was the end of the road, at least for the time being. However, that is not the case.

With the official confirmation from the BCCI on Wednesday that Dravid and his support staff would continue in their respective roles, the former India captain could have yet another chance to have a go at an ICC event. While the press release from the BCCI did not mention the term of the extension, it looks like Dravid, Vikram Rathour (batting coach), Paras Mhambrey (bowling coach) and T Dilip (fielding coach) would stay on until the T20 World Cup in June next year. Meanwhile, VVS Laxman will continue to head the National Cricket Academy in Bengaluru.

Dravid (2nd R) & his support staff will have another chance to end trophy drought

First things first. Despite not having a trophy to show, the Indian team, under Dravid and Rohit Sharma (captain), have adopted a new approach, especially in white ball cricket. The result is the invincible run India had at the home World Cup up until the final. In fact, Dravid spoke about the team culture he was able to build with the captain after signing on for the extension. "I am genuinely proud of the culture we have set in the dressing room. It's a culture that stands resilient, whether in moments of triumph or adversity," he said in a statement.

However, briefly before his tenure as head coach was extended, the trophy drought put a question mark over whether Dravid would continue or whether the board would want him as all-format coach and so on. In fact, there were multiple reports that the former captain was being approached by IPL teams and the BCCI tried to rope in Ashish Nehra for the shortest format. In the end, Dravid remains in the hot seat. "The BCCI engaged in productive discussions with Mr. Rahul Dravid after the term of his contract ended following the recently concluded ICC Men's Cricket World Cup 2023 and unanimously agreed to further the tenure," read the release from BCCI.

While India's red-ball transition has already begun, what will be interesting is to see how the team goes into the T20 World Cup. Since the last global T20 event, Hardik Pandya has led India in the shortest format whenever he was available while Sharma and Virat Kohli have stayed away.

As things stand, Suryakumar Yadav is captaining India in the bilaterals against Australia. However, with Pandya recovering from injury, it will be interesting to see who leads India in the T20Is in South Africa next month. When Dravid took charge, there was a change of guard with Sharma named as white-ball captain before Kohli resigned from the longest format. While Sharma is expected to continue for the Tests, and ODIs, will he want to play the shortest format and aim for another ICC title six months down the line?

Apart from the T20 WC, India will also play two away Tests in South Africa and a five-Test home series versus England under Dravid. In the BCCI's release, secretary Jay Shah said that Dravid will have the "full backing" and "all the support needed for sustained success at the international level."

Swiss success has breathed new life into me: Gujrathi

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

Vidit Gujrathi

KNOW GUJRATHI

Full name: Vidit Santosh Gujrathi

Age: 29

Classical rating: 2737.4 (15th in the world and 3rd after Viswanathan Anand and R Praggnanandhaa)

Won Grand Swiss to qualify for the Candidates

Became a GM in 2013

Is involved in a new social media app, wildr

RIGHT after the chess Olympiad last year at Mahabalipuram, Vidit Gujrathi had become ever so slightly annoyed at his game. Had it stagnated? It didn't help that negative thoughts had begun to cloud his judgment. "Was my time running out?" Sixteen months later, Gujrathi is in a much better space. Earlier this month, he rubber-stamped his entry into the Candidates by winning the Grand Swiss. Even otherwise, he's feeling more positively about his game. Since the Olympiad, he has been working with a familiar face (40-year-old GM, Surya Shekhar Ganguly). The 29-year-old spoke about those negative thoughts, the changes he has made and why winning the Grand Swiss was like somebody giving him a full oxygen cylinder.

When you began 2023 post the Olympiad, what was your stated aim for the year?

I was very upset after the Olympiad. Although I didn't lose any game (featuring for India A, his team finished in fourth), I realised I was missing too many chances. I was playing a bit too passively. I had this annoying feeling that may be my game is becoming stagnant. After that, I started to build a team. So, I got on board Surya Shekhar Ganguly as coach. We then worked on my weaknesses and made a plan. The initial few months weren't easy... when you are making a change... I was struggling. Slowly slowly, I got some signs that a few of the things are working out well. The goal was always there about Candidates but first, I had to work on my game. I realised that with the current quality (I showed) in Olympiad, I cannot qualify. So I focused more on my game but the goal was always there.

Your thoughts on winning the Grand Swiss and qualifying for the Candidates?

Totally ecstatic about winning the Grand Swiss. It's one of the world's strongest tournaments and I feel so much more confident after doing that. Playing the Candidates now, I have a clear goal in sight. It's like I was climbing a mountain but I was running out of oxygen. But it came at the right time. It was like somebody just handed me an oxygen cylinder. The victory has breathed new life into me.

At 29, you are still young. But when you look at the younger generation, do you ever think, 'hang on, is my time running out?'

I did feel that there's lot of competition in the younger generation. I had negative thoughts that 'has my time run out'. But also, it pushed me to work harder on my game. This title has given me the confidence you know... 'I'm still there, on my best days, I can win one of the best tournaments in the world'.

Did you do anything specific coming into the event?

Been preparing quite a lot for a very long time. I didn't change anything specific. Think it just clicked. At the top level, it's all about minute changes. It just got accumulated over a year and when I needed it the most, it all came together. I was always putting in the hours.

T20 WORLD CUP QUALIFIER

Uganda cricket on the cusp of making history

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

WITH the 33-run win against Kenya in the ongoing ICC Men's T20 World Cup Africa Region Qualifier on Wednesday, Uganda are a step closer to sealing their spot for the global event in USA and West Indies next year. Having won three of their four matches already, Uganda needed a win against Kenya to keep the dream alive. And there was only one spot open with Namibia already securing theirs. Uganda did what was required.

They posted 162/5 in 20 overs, with opener Simon Ssesazi scoring 60 runs from 50 balls to keep the innings steady. The fireworks at the end was provided by Dinesh Nakrani who smashed a quickfire 40 from 23 balls. With the ball, Bilal Hassan took four for 39 as Uganda restricted Kenya to 129 all out.

With the victory, they have eight points in five games to be second on the table. All they need to ensure their qualification for the T20 World Cup on Thursday is to beat Rwanda — a team they have not lost to in each of their last 16 encounters — in the final league game.

Rooting against them would be Zimbabwe, who beat Nigeria to keep their hopes alive. Skipper Sikandar Raza took two wickets before hitting a 37-ball 65 to take his team home in a 111-run chase. With six points, Zimbabwe are placed third in table, but have a NRR of 2.322, which is much higher than that of Uganda (0.759). For them to qualify, they have to beat Kenya and hope that Uganda loses to Rwanda. If it does not happen, Zimbabwe will miss the T20 World Cup. They also missed the ticket to the recently concluded ODI World Cup in the qualifiers this year. For Uganda, it would be an historic achievement for it will be their first ever appearance in a ICC World Cup. Brief scores: Uganda 162/5 in 20 ovs (Simon 60, Dinesh 40 n.o) bt Kenya 129 in 19 ovs (Collins 34; Bilal Hassan 4/39); Nigeria 110/8 (Ridwan 24; Raza 2/13) lost to Zimbabwe 111/4 in 14 ovs (Raza 65); Tanzania 153/8 in 20 ovs (Salum Jumbe 76 n.o; Clinton Rubagumya 2/21) bt Rwanda 102/7 in 20 ovs (Martin Akayezu 37 n.o; Mohammed Issa 2/9).

WFI elections: Returning Officer to meet ad-hoc panel members today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

RETURNING officer MM Kumar, retired Chief Justice of the J&K High Court, and members of the ad-hoc committee looking after wrestling in the country, will meet at the IOA Bhavan, New Delhi, on Thursday. The Supreme Court on Tuesday overturned the stay imposed by the Punjab and Haryana High Court on the elections of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) and asked the RO to publish a revised schedule of the elections.

"I am attending a meeting with the ad-hoc committee members at the IOA Bhavan on Thursday afternoon. Nothing more can be said at the moment as I haven't received the order of the Supreme Court yet," the RO told this newspaper.

Ad-hoc panel member Bhupender Singh Bajwa hoped they would receive a copy of the order by Thursday to help them chalk out the future course of action. "The meeting is called to decide on the WFI elections. The RO has to go through to the order before coming up with the revised schedule. Hopefully, we get the copy of the order so that we can announce the schedule," Bajwa told this daily.

Neither the RO nor Bajwa was able to tell whether the election process will start from where it was stopped after the stay or whether it will have to start all over again.

A bench of justices Abhay S Oka and Pankaj Mithal on Tuesday reportedly expressed strong reservations on the stay imposed by the Punjab and Haryana High Court and said it failed to understand how the entire process of the election could have been set at naught by the High Court.

"Pending a writ petition filed by the Haryana Wrestling Association, by an interim order the High Court has stayed the election of WFI. We fail to understand how the entire process of the election could have been set at naught by HC. The proper course would have been to allow the election to be conducted and make the election subject to the outcome of the pending writ petition. Accordingly, the impugned order granting interim relief is set aside," the court has observed. The WFI elections had been postponed thrice so far. The returning officer had first set July 6 as the election date before revising it to July 11. But the Assam association moved the Gauhati High Court and managed to get a stay on the July 11 polls on June 25. After the stay was vacated, the RO set August 12 as the polling date but P&H High Court stayed the elections a day before to stall the process for the third time.

The WFI remains suspended by United World Wrestling, the world governing body for the sport. Indian athletes who took part at the World Championships had to compete under a neutral flag.

Karthik, Natarajan guide TN to victory

AGENCIES @ Mumbai

VETERAN Dinesh Karthik was back at his vintage best to smash a quickfire half-century as Tamil Nadu overcame a jittery start to down Baroda by 38 runs in a low-scoring group E match of the Vijay Hazare Trophy domestic one-dayers, here on Wednesday.

Asked to bat first, Tamil Nadu were reeling at 52/5 when the skipper dig in with all his experience to rescue the team with a 51-ball 68 featuring nine fours and two sixes for his 40th List A fifty. Tamil Nadu were soon reduced to 52/6, but Karthik held fort and put together a 75-run partnership with Shahrukh Khan (31; 39b) to help them go past 150. Luk-man Meriwala (4/21 from 7 overs) and Ninad Rathva (3/23 from 7.3 overs) were the pick of the bowlers for Baroda as Tamil Nadu's innings lasted just 33.3 overs. In reply, Baroda were shot out for 124 in 23.3 overs with T Natarajan leading the charge in his 7-1-38-4, while spin twins Varun Chakravarthy and R Sai Kishore shared five wickets between them.

Meanwhile, Karnataka batter Devdutt Padikkal continued with his silken touch in the format, scoring a 57-ball 93 not out to steer them to a seven-wicket win over Bihar in a group C contest at Ahmedabad. Batting at No 4, Padikkal hit nine boundaries and five sixes as Karnataka made short work of Bihar, chasing down the 218-target in just 33.4 overs.

For Kerala, Sanju Samson failed with the bat yet again as he was dismissed for a five-ball one, but Kerala had it easy in defeating Tripura by 119 runs in a group A clash at Alur. Wicketkeeper-batter Mohammed Azharuddeen top-scored for Kerala with a 61-ball 58. Select results: TN 162 in 33.3 ovs (Dinesh Karthik 68; Meriwala 4/21) bt Baroda 124 in 23.2 ovs (Solanki 23; Natarajan 4/38); Kerala 231 in 47.1 ovs (Azharuddeen 58; Sarkar 3/33) bt Tripura 112 in 27.5 ovs (Akhil Scaria 3/11, Akhin 3/27); Bihar 217/7 in 50 ovs (Gani 113 n.o; Suchith 3/27) lost to Karnataka 218/3 in 33.4 ovs (Devdutt Padikkal 93 n.o); Rajasthan 290 in 50 ovs (Abhijeet Tomar 124; Pinninit Tapaswi 4/47) bt Andhra 252 in 47.4 ovs (Ashwin Hebbar 68; Choudhary 4/49); J & K 299/7 in 50 ovs (Shubham Khajuria 109) bt Delhi 224 in 45.3 ovs (Lalit Yadav 67).

TECH CONTROVERSY AT PARC DES PRINCES

Newcastle looked to have produced one of their best European wins before the on-field referee awarded a dubious penalty to PSG with seconds remaining on the clock (thanks to VAR). The handball offence was very questionable. The 1-1 draw changes the outlook for both clubs going into the final round of matches in Group F. A win would have taken Newcastle into their final group game at home to AC Milan next month with their fate in their own hands in terms of securing qualification for the last 16. Instead, the draw leaves them in third place, and PSG will join the already-qualified Borussia Dortmund in going through if they win their last game in Germany.

QR codes, shut metros: Police outline Paris Oly security

AGENCIES @ Paris

THE Paris police chief has outlined drastic security measures for next year's summer Olympics, sparking an outcry from politicians Wednesday who said they were an attack on civic freedoms.

Laurent Nunez told Le Parisien newspaper in an interview for Wednesday's issue that residents living near Olympic venues would need to apply for a QR code allowing them to pass police barriers. People living in the restricted areas would also have to register any visitors who might want to watch the action from their balcony, window or rooftops, or even houseboat. "People entering a perimeter must be able to provide a valid reason for being there," Nunez said. He said motorised traffic would be severely restricted for the duration of the Games. Special rules will apply during the opening ceremony on July 26, when high-security, or "red", perimeters will be "very large", Nunez said.

"The only people getting through will be people with a valid reason, in other words people going to their hotel, or their home, or people with a ticket for the ceremony," he said. Some metro stops, in areas of high vulnerability to a possible attack, will be closed, Nunez said. "You can't have open metro stations inside a protection perimeter unless you then also body-search everybody," Nunez said.

IOC chief Thomas Bach chairs the Olympic body's EB meeting to discuss the Paris plans on Wednesday | AP

Other stops may be closed if they are too small to handle big passenger numbers, he said.

The announcements, which Nunez said were still being finalised with the government and Paris city hall, prompted hostile reactions across the political spectrum.

"These measures are the hallmark of a state of emergency," said centrist deputy Philippe Bonnecarrere. He said it was "curious" that they would be applied "in a situation that is supposed to be happy". Senator Nathalie Goulet, also a centrist, said the measures were "an attack on liberties".

The QR code required "collecting and storing data", she said, demanding "an explanation" from the government on data protection. "This is outrageous, even worse than what we feared," far-left deputy Eric Coquerel said. "The Olympic Games will have a liberticidal taste," said Damien Maudet, another leftist MP.

Some 15 million visitors are expected for the Olympics in July and August, and the Paralympics in August and early September.

After nearly seven decades, New Krishna Bhavan, the iconic eatery in Malleswaram, is shutting its doors early next month

ONE LAST BITE

Patrons enjoy a meal at the restaurant

DESE GOWDA

For nearly seven decades, New Krishna Bhavan(NKB), nestled within the quaint neighbourhood of Malleswaram has served delectable South Indian dishes like green masala idli, button idli, masala dosa and more to adoring patrons. But on Wednesday morning, the atmosphere within the iconic eatery was heavy with nostalgia and melancholy. After serving generations of Bengalureans, the beloved restaurant is set to permanently close its doors on December 6.

"I didn't expect the kind of response that the announcement has garnered, to be frank. The only reason we put out the announcement was to inform our regular customers and thank them. But the response on social media has been beyond our expectations," says Sunil S Prabhu, a fourth-generation restaurateur and co-owner of the New Krishna Bhavan. "I always thought that the people who cared about this place were older people, who have been coming here for a while. I never thought the younger generation would care so much about it."

Established in 1954 by Prabhu's grandfather, himself an immigrant from Udupi, NKB is touted to be one of the first eateries in town to offer ₹1 meals. "Bengaluru is a city of immigrants. People from all parts of the state and country have moved here seeking better opportunities. My grandfather was one of them. Usually, these immigrants come alone and without family. And NKB was established to feed such immigrants. Earlier, there used to be a mill nearby called Raja Mill. And we used to serve lunch for around 3000 customers per day. We would start at 10 am and it would go on until late afternoon," shares Prabhu, adding "We were also the first eatery in town to have a dedicated family space."

Its loyal base of patrons included notable personalities like Kannada matinee idol Dr Rajkumar and his family. Within the last few days, this decade-old eatery has seen an influx of patrons – regulars and new alike – wanting to taste its famed food before it closes, according to staff members. Abhishek Tiwari, a banker originally from Bihar who has been a regular of NKB for years, was disappointed at the restaurant's closing. "I work close by and I've been coming here for years now. The food is always excellent and I'll miss this place," he adds.

Meanwhile, despite the news, Prabhu says the patrons have all been supportive of the family's decision. "On Wednesday, I stood on the floor from morning till 3 pm and everyone who came to the restaurant only had good things to say about it. While they tell me how sad they are about the restaurant closing, they nevertheless have wished me luck for the future and that they support us wholeheartedly," he adds. Having started working at the restaurant when he was 22 years old, Prabhu says he's looking forward to taking a well-earned break, but stresses that the family currently has no plans for the restaurant. However, they are working hard to ensure the current employees at the establishment, some of whom have been there for decades, have a secure future.

From miniature gardenscapes as home decor to immortalising your memories as tiny fridge magnets, CE speaks to miniature artists in the city diversifying their art with its growing popularity

Miniature Marvels

POOJA DAS

Imagine a delectable tray of your favourite comfort food, so intricately curated that you can taste the flavours. Now, imagine it as your earrings. While that sounds a little inexplicable, miniature artist Kirti Basal, who is known for her venture Hello Miniverse, which started in 2019, creates accessories with polymer and liquid clay depicting a range of food items, from biscuits to cupcakes. She says that the art form is blowing up because 'it's just darn unique', saying "Folks throw in tons of requests to miniaturise their favourite foods, making the whole miniature art scene a wild and tasty ride."

Not just miniature food items many miniature artists in the city are experimenting with the art form. Ruchika Nambiar uses mixed media and has created a storyverse through The Dollhouse Project, an interactive miniature universe on Instagram which follows the life of Nambiar's 5-inch-tall alter ego, Little R. "I found myself drawn to miniatures because of their immense potential for three-dimensional storytelling," says Nambiar. Her passion for creating a parallel world inspires her to explore fluidity and identity through Little R, turned-miniature artist Vani Dixit also known as chiguruminigardens, creates beautiful mini garden-scapes. "I love gardening and I stumbled upon miniature gardens which are small little garden scenes that you can keep in your balconies or some outdoor spaces as well. I thought why not create my own miniatures with clay," says Dixit who also gets many custom orders.

Ruchika Nambiar and her miniature alter ego, Little R

"This 2023, I also built a second studio apartment for Little R inside a handmade suitcase – The Travelling Home – so that she could travel with me." The universe which is in its fifth season will see Little R seeing more of the world.

Nambiar believes that miniature art has seen a recent upsurge in India and across the world with the launch of reality shows like Best in Miniature. She says, "The appeal of miniature art lies in its physicality – the ability to behold a miniature object in the real world. And at a time when most experiences are increasingly virtual, miniatures tend to carry some degree of enchantment."

As far as creating enchanting experiences is considered, engineer-

Curating and creating memories through miniature art is also on the rise. Aimee Rajan, who is also known as @_allthingsclay_ has gained a lot of appreciation for her customised clay portraits, "I cannot count the number of times customers have messaged me after gifting their friends and family – the recreations in particular – expressing their gratitude. Whether it was a daughter wanting to immortalise her late father, or a wife giving her husband their special milestone moments or a giant family piece for their grandparents, it makes me want to continue doing this."

Skin problem basics for pregnant women

DR SHALINI VR

PREGNANCY is a period where many physical changes take place in a woman's body. These changes are very evident in 90 per cent of women. These can be classified into three categories: Physiologic skin changes (normal skin changes), Pre-existing dermatoses affected by pregnancy (skin diseases modified by pregnancy) and Specific dermatoses (skin diseases only during pregnancy).

Most of these conditions do not cause any harm either to the mother or to the baby, and resolve on their own as the pregnancy progresses. But it is important to sort these out from conditions that are likely to cause problems. Many of these may resolve on their own after delivery. But in some situations, special attention is necessary for the mother and baby. Therefore, whatever the difficulty, it is highly advisable to consult a doctor to ensure proper and adequate treatment.

Diseases Modified by Pregnancy

Many pre-existing conditions may be exacerbated or ameliorated by pregnancy. Pre-pregnancy skin diseases, especially fungal infections, can increase during this period. Monitoring of mother and baby is essential in people with connective tissue disorder (SLE, Scleroderma). However, the intensity of psoriasis decreases during pregnancy.

Common physiological changes

Changes in pigment: Due to hormonal activity, the body becomes darker in colour, it starts from the nipples and genital areas. Moles and scars may darken and enlarge. Discolouration of the whole body may also occur during this period. A black line along the middle of the abdomen called Linea nigra appears during and disappears after pregnancy. Discolouration of the face during pregnancy can be called chloasma, melasma or mask of pregnancy. It is seen in 45% to 75% of women. Stretch marks are seen in 90% of women. It starts appearing during the sixth or seventh month. Skin tags appear on the neck, face and chest, but most go away after delivery. If not, it can be treated with cautery. Most of the pigmentation subsides within a year. Kindly abstain from using OTC products during pregnancy and lactation.

Changes in hair: The hair growth rate is high during pregnancy. It gets shiny and thick during this period without much hair loss. But in one to three months after giving birth, all the hair that did not fall out for so long begins to fall. This can last for a period of three to 12 months. There is a chance of an increase in facial hair growth during pregnancy.

Changes in the nail: Nail breakage and fungal infection are more likely during this period.

Changes in blood circulation: Blood flow to the skin increases during pregnancy. Red moles and marks may appear. The palms of the hands may become red and inflammation of the gums may also happen.

Variation in the glands: Sweating is more common during pregnancy. Therefore, heat rash and fungal infection can occur. Overactive sebaceous glands can cause acne and dandruff.

Skin diseases specifically associated with pregnancy

Atopic eruption: People with allergies or a history of allergies in their family may develop itchy rashes on the face, neck, chest and folds. These difficulties can arise from the first trimester of pregnancy. This condition also returns in subsequent pregnancies.

Prurigo of pregnancy: An itchy rash appears on the body, legs and abdomen. Scaling may also appear. It sometimes lasts for three months after pregnancy. It is seen in the second and third trimesters. This condition has also been seen in subsequent pregnancies.

Polymorphic eruption of pregnancy: It is mostly seen in women who are pregnant for the first time. It is commonly seen in those with multiple foetuses and those who are overweight. It appears on the abdomen, fingers and thighs. Pustules and rashes appear and they disappear in two weeks of postpartum.

Dermatitis herpetiformis or Pemphigoid gestationis: It is usually seen in the last months of pregnancy or immediately after delivery. Red rashes and pustules start from the abdomen and affect the whole body. But the rash is not seen on palms, face, oral cavity and genitalia. It affects the growth of the fetus and causes premature delivery.

COMMON WINTER ILLNESS AMONG CHILDREN

DR PARIMALA V THIRUMALESH

CHILDREN are susceptible to infections during winter. Respiratory infections, such as the flu and common cold, sore throat, and sinusitis are the most common illnesses during this season. Since these infections are highly contagious, it is crucial to monitor early symptoms and take preventive measures.

(The writer is sr. consultant - neonatology & paediatrics, Aster CMI Hospital)

PREVENTIVE MEASURES

Vaccination: Ensure the child is up to date with all the vaccinations; flu vaccination is crucial.

Surrounding Hygiene: Keep the surroundings clean, sanitize the toys, and the most frequently touched surfaces.

Hand Hygiene: Practice hand hygiene and encourage children to wash hands frequently.

Social Distancing: Practice social distancing and avoid getting in contact with anyone who has symptoms.

Nutrition: Follow a well-balanced diet that is high in protein, fibre, whole grains, fruits, vegetables, and lean meat. Avoid highly processed foods and junk food.

Adequate Hydration: Drink at least 6-7 glasses of water even during colder months.

Respiratory Etiquette: Always use a mask; covering mouth and nose with a tissue or elbow while coughing or sneezing is instrumental in reducing the transmission of respiratory droplets.

Adequate Rest: Rest plays a crucial role in the body's ability to combat illnesses. One should sleep for at least 7-8 hours a day, which is vital for optimal immune system function.

Avoiding Contact With Infected Individuals: Within close quarters of schools and playgrounds, contact with infected children can lead to illnesses. It's advisable for children to avoid close contact with infected individuals and the use of face masks.

Specific Focus On Influenza and Flu: Children are particularly susceptible to influenza and flu during winter. Taking precautions, such as timely vaccinations. It is crucial to be aware of specific medical perceptions, considering factors like the child's health history and potential allergic reactions to vaccines.

Timely Medical Consultation: Seeking medical attention promptly when a child displays signs of illness is crucial for early detection and treatment.

SYMPTOMS

Coughing, sneezing, sore throat, runny nose, and fever are the most common symptoms. Additionally, children may experience extreme fatigue, body aches, and discomfort.

WHEN TO CONSULT A DOCTOR

When the high fever lasts for more than 5 days

Dehydration due to vomiting and inability to keep fluids down

Loose stools that lasts for more than a week

Difficulty in breathing and rashes all over the body

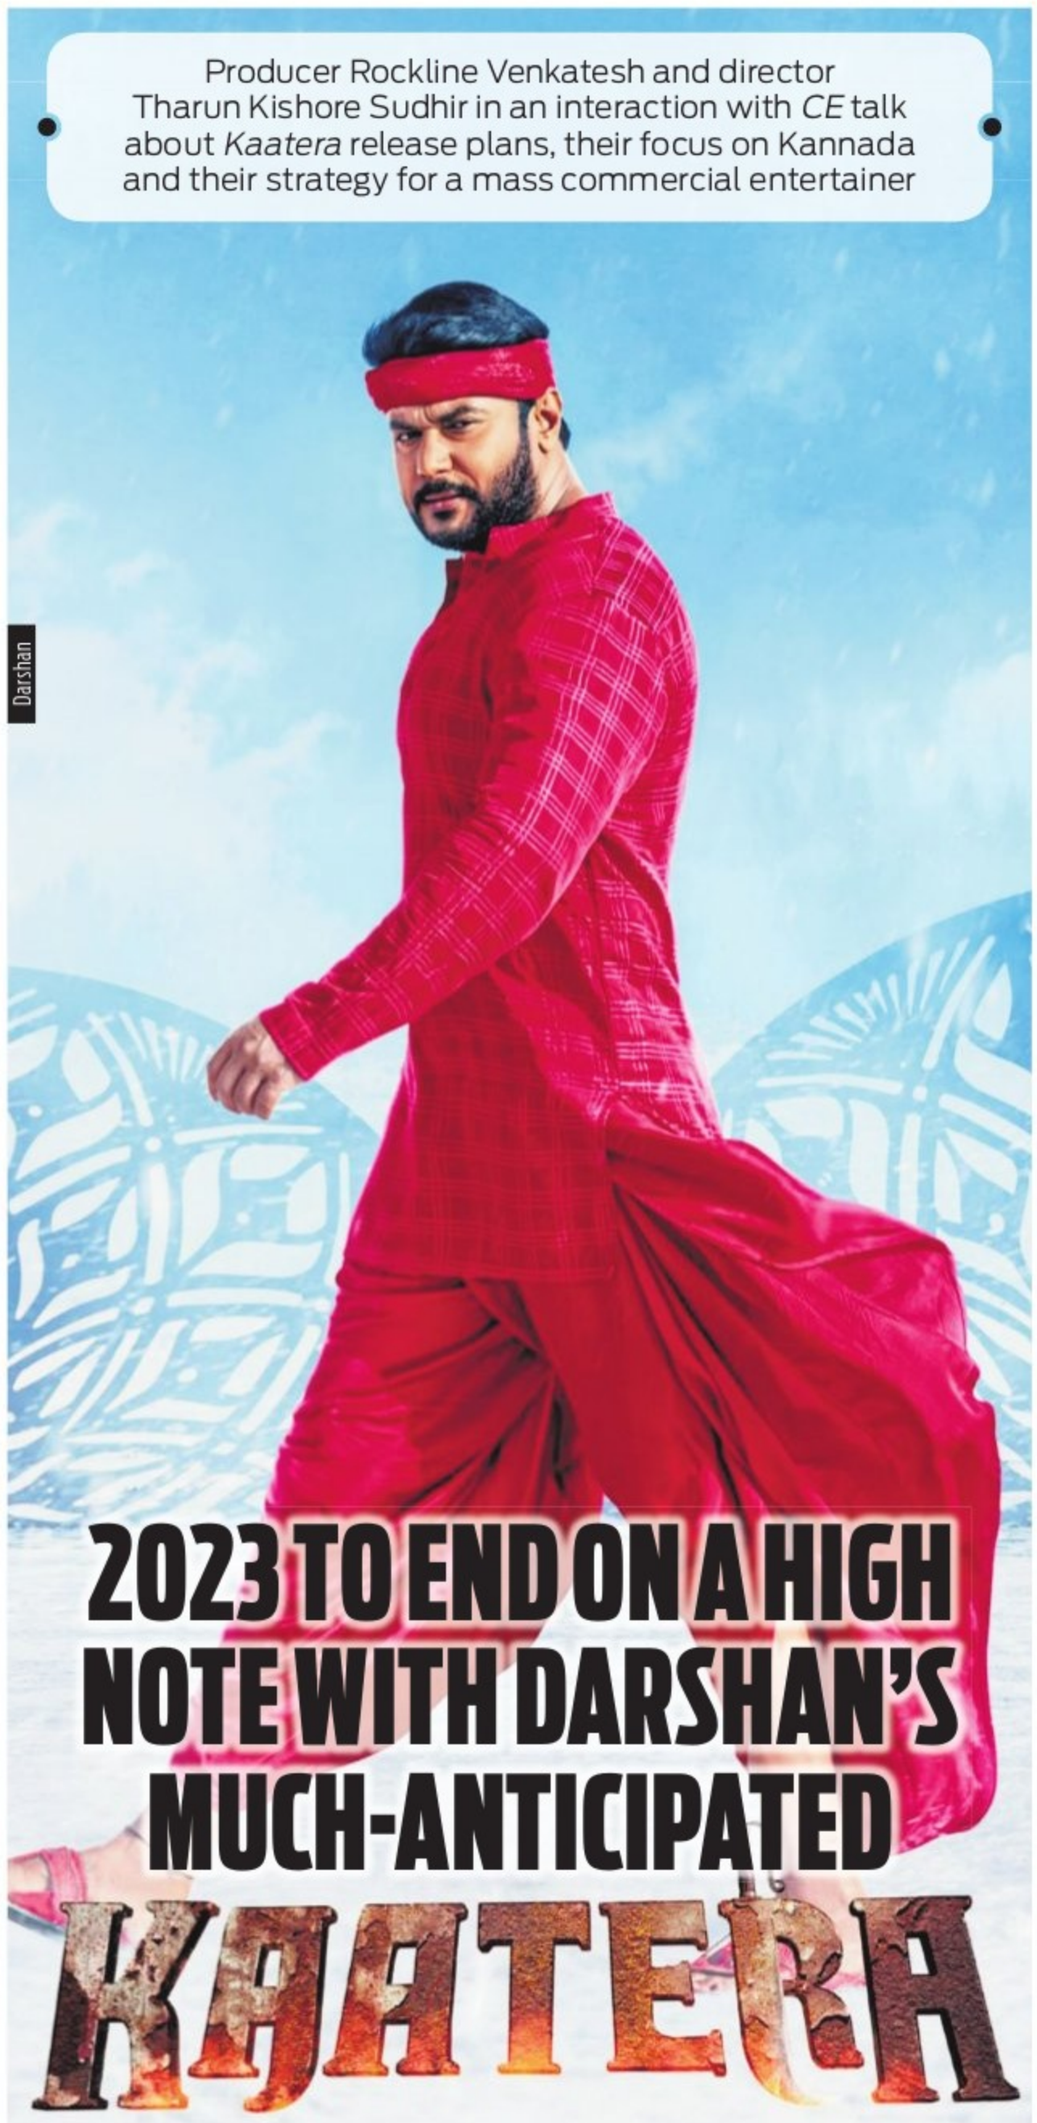
Producer Rockline Venkatesh and director Tharun Kishore Sudhir in an interview with CE talk about Kaatera release plans, their focus on Kannada and their strategy for a mass commercial entertainer



2023 TO END ON A HIGH NOTE WITH DARSHAN'S MUCH-ANTICIPATED KAATERA

A SHARADHAA

THE year 2023 will culminate on a grand note for the Kannada film industry and 2024 will start with a bang as Challenging Star Darshan's much-anticipated film, Kaatera, is set for release on December 29th. An official announcement was shared by Rockline Entertainment, along with actor Darshan and director Tharun Kishore Sudhir, across multiple social platforms, inviting the audience to brace themselves for a spectacular celebration. Producer Rockline Venkatesh, speaking to CE, mentioned that their initial plan was a Dasara release, which later shifted to Deepavali. However, due to extensive technical work demanding quality attention, we had to push the date.

"Considering all aspects synchronized, we've now finalised the year-end as the release date, spilling the gala over into 2024," says the producer.

Notably, significant Kannada releases like Mungaru Male and Kirik Party got a year-end release and went on to become blockbusters. "Despite sentimental attachments to this date, we deemed it to be the perfect timing and are geared up for a theatrical release," Rockline states, preparing for an audio release and subsequent promotions leading up to the release date.

Rockline Venkatesh, one of the first viewers of Kaatera, expresses contentment with the film's output, stating, "The team has given their best, presenting a different genre. This action-packed entertainer with substance will be a big film for the Kannada audience." Rockline Venkatesh intends for a Kannada release initially, citing challenges in focusing on multi-lingual release. "We plan to concentrate on a Kannada release first and address other languages upon demand," he mentions.

Director Tharun Sudhir, having completed the film's shooting, with the last shoot taking place on Wednesday, has simultaneously completed the post-production work alongside the VFX and recording, and is now anticipating the final copy. Commencing shooting in April and intensifying in last October 2022, the film is now poised for a December release. The story, penned by Jadesha K Hampi and Tharun Sudhir, initially created a buzz with an intriguing image featuring a dog leading sheep, captioned 'It's the leader's duty to guide the followers.' Darshan's first look, portraying him in a rugged appearance with a blood-stained machete, added to the anticipation.

Kaatera, signifies strength drawn from a goddess's name and the film is reportedly made based on a real incident in a 1970s Karnataka village.

"This marks a departure from my previous flick, Roberrt, presenting a new genre for me and the entire team," says Tharun, adding "It involved extensive research and understanding of the 1970s period, presenting a challenging subject." Tharun says the decision to release the film on this date was collective, considering the long weekend and the celebratory aura of the approaching New Year. "Cinema is also a celebration," he says.

Kaatera will mark Darshan's 56th film, following Kranti. The actor-director previously collaborated in Chowka where Darshan made a cameo and Roberrt. The film has dialogues by Maasthi, cinematography by Sudhakar S Raj and music scored by V Harikrishna.

Kaatera features an intriguing star cast with Aaradhana, daughter of Malashree, making her debut alongside Darshan. It also stars Jagapathi Babu, Vinod Alva and Kumar Govind in pivotal roles.

RISHAB Shetty, who launched the prequel, Kantara: A Legend Chapter 1, on Monday, culminated the week with accolades for Kantara, at the International Film Festival held in Goa. The writer-actor-director, who has been relishing the love and appreciation across India and the globe since the release of Kantara in September 2022, was honoured with a special Jury Award at the IFFI Goa.

The film about human-nature conflict stood among the only three Indian films nominated and eventually included in the final list of 15 contenders for the Golden Peacock awards.

Thrilled with the Silver Peacock award, and appreciation for the film at the festival, Rishab expressed his desire to dedicate this award to the legendary actor Shankar Nag. "Actor Shankar Nag was the first actor from Kannada cinema to receive The Silver Peacock award in the Best Actor category for his film, Ondanondu Kaaldali, directed by Girish Karnad, way back in 1979. Kantara marks the second time a Kannada film has won in this category, but now as the Best Director. Being inspired by the legend's craft, I am honoured to dedicate this award to him," he mentioned. The film, starring Rishab Shetty himself, also featured Sapthami Gowda, Achyuth Kumar, among other talented actors.

Turning to the prequel, Kantara, A Legend: Chapter 1, produced by Hombale Films, is slated to commence towards the end of December. The film has music director Ajaneesh Loknath and DOP Arvind Kashyap collaborating with Rishab for the project.

Love is putting someone else before yourself: Divya

CE FEATURES

FORMER Bigg Boss Kannada contestants Divya Uruguda and KP Aravind, who are partners in real life, are sharing the screen for the first time in Aravind Kaushik's upcoming film, Ardambardha Prema Kathe. In an interview with CE, before the film's release on December 1, Divya answers the oft-asked question. Did she ever think acting with Aravind was on the cards? Pat comes the reply. "No. I didn't even know of his acting skills."

"We both have different professions, and he never considered acting. It all unfolded during the narration with director Aravind Kaushik. In fact, it was the director who noticed his good looks and the chemistry between us, and suggested Aravind take up acting. He took a couple of days to decide," says Divya, clarifying that it was completely his decision, and she didn't coerce him at all. "I didn't want to push him into something he wasn't familiar with. I felt he should make the call. Deep down, I did hope he'd take it up, but I never expressed it until he agreed. I was thrilled."

The title of the film was chosen by the director halfway through the scripting stage. Talking about the significance of the title, Aradhambardha Prema Kathe, Divya says, "Actually, no love story truly concludes; it's an ongoing learning experience till the end. So, in a way, all love stories remain unfinished. As for the title's relevance to our situation, love is something I continue learning even after marriage; there's a long way to go," she explains. As for her perspective on love, Divya defines it as 'putting someone else before yourself'.

In her first full-fledged romantic role, the Huliraya actor notes that her character will resonate with millions of women in society. "She's a woman who panics over simple issues, takes them seriously, and is short-tempered. How she faces a significant situation defines her. I believe she's a character that's good but needs better understanding, which will represent most women. In real life, I'm quite the opposite. I manage even the biggest problems with balance."

Praising Aravind's dedication, especially since he was a newcomer in cinema, Divya says, "When Aravind decided to join cinema, he approached the director as a student—very obedient, and with a strong grasp and dedication. A quick learner, he was always on set trying to learn things. I merely taught him the basics."

Looking ahead, Divya expresses her openness to collaborating with Aravind again but without making it a compulsion on any filmmaker. "I've told him, 'Let's grow together in this career,' but neither of us wants to force repeated collaborations and risk becoming monotonous on screen."

LOVE IS REFLECTION AND GROWTH: ARAVIND

AS a national-level bike racer, Aravind KP is not new to intensity and drama. He knows how to handle gears, but acting was never on his mind. "The only acting I did before the film was while I was trying to convince my parenats that I wanted to become a biker. Otherwise, I have dabbled in certain cultural activities and drama in school, but never approached acting with seriousness," says Aravind. He admits that since being in a relationship with Divya, he's had opportunities to explore various artistic aspects besides biking.

Reacting to the spontaneous decision of his director considering him for the lead role, Aravind reflects, "I've acted as KP Aravind, the biker, in the Malayalam film Bangalore Days and Preetham Gubbi's Naanu Mattu Varalakshmi. I was initially skeptical, but the thought stuck with me. Many people wish for such an opportunity, and this was something that came to me so easily. Being someone who enjoys challenges, I thought, 'Why not take it up and see what I can do?'

Especially for the fans of Divya and me, our coming together is a special gift." Sharing his shooting experience, the first-time actor said, "I had a workshop before we began shooting, but when they said 'action' on set, I went blank. Being a shy and less expressive person, I felt self-conscious initially, but I managed to overcome it gradually. Thankfully, having mentors like Aravind Kaushik and Divya Uruguda around made me more comfortable. Every day felt like a workshop, a space to learn and unlearn," he shares, adding, "Racing taught us to be unemotional, and here, it is all about being emotional. Every reaction engaged me. I learned to be emotionally driven in acting."

Reflecting on the lessons from Ardhambardha Prema Kathe, Aravind notes, "Live in the moment, don't get stuck in the past or overly concerned about the future. People who arrived yesterday might have better intentions than those who've been around for ten years. There's plenty of distractions available, but you must stick to your relationships and value them." Regarding his definition of love now that he's in it, Aravind shares, "Love is reflection and growth. Acceptance comes after learning about the person. Both of you help each other grow."

Looking ahead, he shares, "Both of us will begin APK 2 (Ardhambhardha Prema Kathe Part 2) by Aravind Kaushik, early next year."
